AMELIA HIGH SCHOOL

AMELIA, OHIO
VOLUME XXII

A Tribute to Miss Ida Nolte — More Than a Teacher

Miss Ida Nolte, who teaches the BOE I class, is more than a teacher. Besides her regular teaching duties, she is also sponsor of the RECENSIO and the National Quill and Scroll Society at Amelia.

Miss Nolte has also taken an active part in local teaching associations. This year she is President of the Clermont County Educational Association.

Because of these, and many other unacknowledged contributions to the school and the community, we affectionately dedicate the 1969 RECENSIO to Miss Ida Nolte.

Miss Nolte leaves time at the end of the period for her class to begin their homework.

Councils Join Forces on School Projects

This year the Student Council and Inter-Club Council combined efforts. The Inter-Club Council helped the Student Council with their traditional activities, which included Homecoming and Awards Day. Mrs. Dollie Walker was sponsor of both organizations.

The Student Councils from Amelia and Glen Este joined forces for the second year in sponsoring Leadership Day. At this workshop students learned how to conduct meetings effectively.

Alicia Cook, treasurer of the Student Council, receives a dime from Jan Montague for the Student Council coat check.

Making up the 1968 Homecoming Court were Peggy Upton, Senior Attendant; Janey Rose, Senior Attendant; Sally Niehaus, Queen; Chris Mathers, Junior Attendant; Barbara Berwanger, Sophomore Attendant; and Shelly Schoff, Freshman Attendant. Escorting the members of the Court were Gregory Parsons, Frank Kools, Carl White, David Swart, Dale Robertson, and Bill Fisher.

1968 Homecoming Arrived With Thrills

Homecoming was the cause of many thrills. The junior class received one of these thrills when their float, with the theme "Tock it to 'em Barons," won the trophy for the best entry.

During the half-time show, Linda McCabe, 1967 Homecoming Queen, crowned Sally Niehaus 1968 Queen. Then the varsity football co-captains escorted the new Queen around the field.

To complete the evening, the Student Council sponsored a dance after the game. The West Clermont Stage Band, under the direction of Mr. Jerald Robinson, provided the music.

Shelly Schoff, Barbara Berwanger, and Chris Mathers, 1968 Homecoming attendants, rode in the parade.

At the dance the band played
"Around the World in 80 Days."

Kathy King presented the trophy for the winning float to Bonnie Smith and Vicki Spurgeon, representing the junior class.

Ronald Klaas and Paul Kendall, Co-Captains, accompanied Sally Niehaus on the Queen's traditional ride.

Debbie Sellmeyer pinned a yellow rose, the flower of the Baronia chapter of the National Honor Society, on Georgia Nickloes.

Evelyn Leonard was surprised when Patricia Morgan tapped her.

NHS Taps Twenty Into Its Organization

The National Honor Society is an organization formed to honor students who have excelled in the areas of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

This year eight seniors and twelve juniors were initiated at the annual Thanksgiving tapping. The theme of the tapping was chosen from Thoreau, "Let (each man) step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away." After the induction ceremonies a tea was held for both new and old members of the society, faculty members, senior members of the Glen Este Honor Society, and guests.

The organization sponsors annually a canned food drive, a trip to a restaurant and a movie downtown, and a spring picnic.

Shirley Waters escorted Mark Franke to the register to sign his name.

Monica Connell showed her happiness, too, when Richard Conover was tapped.

Georgia Nickloes, Sandra Roehm, Patricia Morgan, and Margaret Jones enjoyed the Honor Society Tea.

Fiesta Ended Year for Spanish Club

The Spanish Club furthered the knowledge of Spanish customs and literature and brought about a better understanding of our Spanish-speaking neighbors.

Each year the club has had a Christmas party for members and guests and a dinner at Caproni's in the spring. These activities were partially paid for by selling pins and decals.

Spanish Honor Society was offered to the members who had excelled in the language. They were initiated in the spring with a ceremony that was completely spoken in Spanish.

The members of the Spanish Honor Society were Lynne Pharo; Mr. Kenneth Randall, Sponsor; Kathy King, Dennis Becker, Patti Hicks, Gary Cundiff, Susan Burns.

This year's incoming members followed a new initiation procedure for acceptance.

French Club Ended Year at French Restaurant

The 56 members of the French Club brought France to Amelia High School by promoting a better understanding of the language and the country. The recordings bought by the school encouraged better learning on the part of the students.

Many activities were planned by the members. In the autumn they sold candy to add funds to their treasury. They also participated in the school's Christmas program by acting out a skit about Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer. A few of the teacher's homes were visited when the members went caroling during the Christmas vacation. Afterwards, they held their annual Christmas party at Penny Mason's house. In the spring they went to dinner at a local French restaurant and later attended a movie.

Members of the French Club learned more about the people and culture of France.

JCL Relived the Days of the Roman Empire

The Junior Classical League, a national organization, promoted an interest in the historical background of Rome. At its meetings individual reports were read which related to the days of the toga.

Mr. Snyder, the sponsor, led the club in its planned activities. The members organized a picnic, a Christmas party, and the annual Roman banquet. They also rode to Columbus in the spring to attend the national convention held at Ohio State University.

Steve Strosnider, President; John Petri, Historian; Carol Tonkin, Tribune; Georgia Nickloes, Treasurer; Karen Tonkin, Vice-President; Danny Crow, Secretary.

DE Prepared Seniors for a Vocation

The Distributive Education Clubs of America, known as DECA, provided extracurricular activities designed to promote community responsibility, leadership ability, and a better understanding of marketing.

Under the leadership of Mr. Wiesenbahn, Amelia's DECA had such projects as selling candy and making Christmas baskets for needy families. They also held their annual Employer-Employee banquet and a dance for the DECA members.

Dan Kirschner, President; Wanda Fontaine, Vice-President; Florence Seiler, Secretary; Donna Thomas, Treasurer.

Health Careers Studied on Local Hospital Tour

Health Careers Club is an organization for students interested in occupations in medical fields after graduation. Both boys and girls are qualified to join, providing they have a B average and are not failing any major subject.

A Saturday tour of Christ Hospital began the year's activities for the Health Careers Club. They also gave their annual party for the Retarded School in the spring and provided entertainment and refreshments for the children. Speakers at various club meetings gave lectures and discussed the many careers in health.

KNEELING: Erlene Hines, Secretary; Pamela Wright, Program Chairman. STANDING: Kathie Idlett, Treasurer; David Schwytzer, Vice-President; Kay Strunk, President.

Suzanne Klein, Kathy Beckelhymer, Vera McCarty, Georgia Nickloes, Dianne Siegel, Kathleen Baker, and Vicki Ludlow planned careers in health fields.

SEATED: Gregory Hinterlong, James Edie, George Koumoutsos, Lawrence Curlis, Steven Wilfert. STANDING: Kenneth Wildt, Harold Wood, Theresa Rice, Steve Roehm.

The leaders of the FSA were Sponsor Mr. John Lutz, President Gary Gray, Sponsor Mr. Hugh Dunn, Vice-President Bennett Moore, and Treasurer Mary Lou Sigsby.

Lecture Explained Scientific Advances

The Future Scientists of America exists to promote interest in the sciences that are not taught in the classroom and beyond what is in the textbook, for instance the current trends in both physical and biochemical sciences which will aid industrial advances and education.

To carry out the aims of the club, the Future Scientists sponsored a lecture on laser beams for all science students. The speaker, a representative of the Bell Telephone Company, talked about advances in telephone systems and distribution methods in transmitting results of presidential elections.

BOE Girls Observed National Secretaries Week

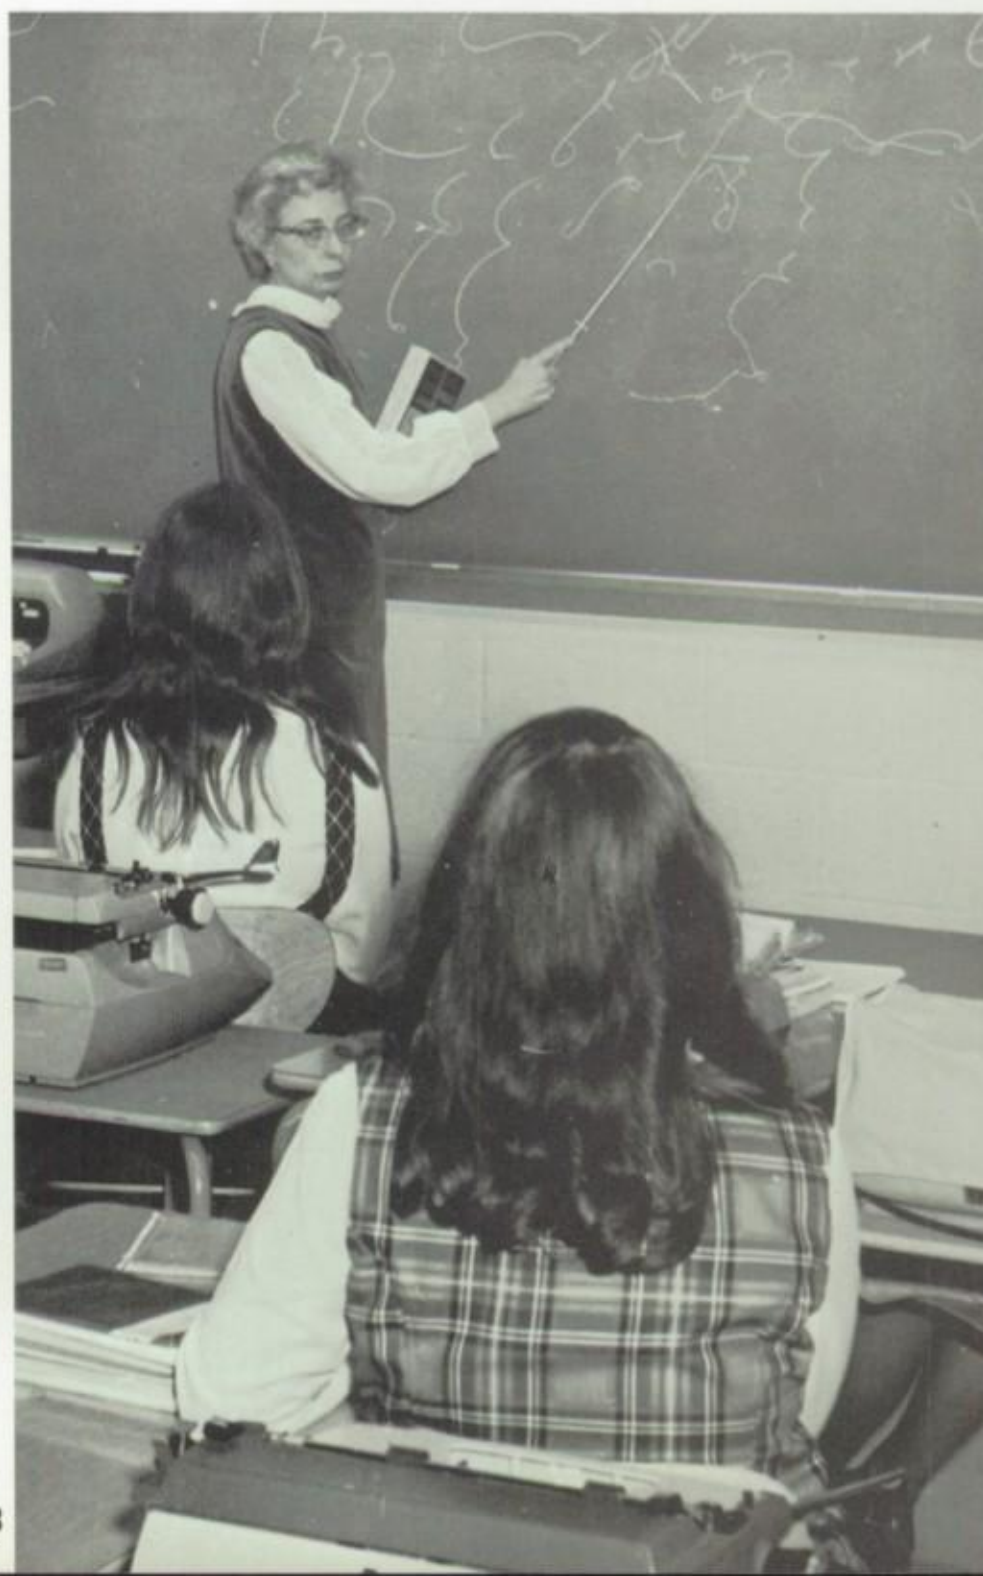

The BOE Club, open only to junior and senior girls in the Business and Office Education course, was busy from the start of the school year when toys and clothes were collected for Allen House.

Door decorations and favors were made by the members to celebrate Christmas. In observation of National Secretaries Week, they had a fashion show and party for the school secretaries.

Mrs. Lutz had lots of work for Kathy Beck.

Shorthand was taught to these future secretaries by Miss Nolte.

FTA Members Visited Local College Campus

FTA, Future Teachers of America, helped students become acquainted with the teaching profession.

At their meetings they discussed the requirements for being a teacher, the duties involved, and information concerning the field in which each particular student wanted to teach.

To observe teaching firsthand, they visited a local elementary school and took part for a period of time in teaching the children. On February 5 a panel of students from Miami University attended a meeting to discuss college requirements, fees, and the change of environment from the high school to the college campus. The members also took a trip to Miami University which gave them some insight into what they could expect upon entering college. Membership dues helped to finance these trips.

By visiting Miami University, FTA members helped prepare themselves for a teaching career.

Interest in Art Used in Projects

The Art Club was organized to stimulate an interest in creative activities and promote artistic appreciation. They constructed and displayed posters announcing future events and promoting school spirit. They also continued their project of painting the windows in the lobby and main hallway at Christmas.

The club participated in several art shows, trying new and abstract methods of endeavors and toured the Cincinnati Art Museum in the spring.

To stimulate creativity, the club required its members to submit two artistic works a month.

The Art Club had new requirements but still had the largest membership since its beginning.

Officers were Vice-President Brian Cookson, Program Chairman Steve Strosnider, Secretary Debbie Begley, President Glenn Miller, and Treasurer Kent Schoff.

Mrs. Sulkes watched Michael Hensley, Carolyn Dugger, and Denice Kirschner at work on a creative poster.

Tri-M Honored Musicians

The Modern Music Masters, known as Tri-M, is a national organization formed to honor students who have contributed much to the music department of the school. The qualifications for membership are that a student must be participating in some aspect of music as well as maintaining a C average in all academic subjects.

In December sponsors Mr. Timothy Duncan and Mr. Jerald Robinson, with the members of the organization, chose candidates who had met the qualifications by sending each person an invitation letter. These apprentices were required to pass a test over the Tri-M constitution and to perform at the initiation before they became members of the honorary society.

Leading the Tri-M were Vice-President Debbie Sellmeyer, Secretary Marlene Boggess, President Patricia Morgan, Historian Chris Mathers, and Treasurer Christine Meyer.

The Modern Music Masters stimulated appreciation in the school and the community.

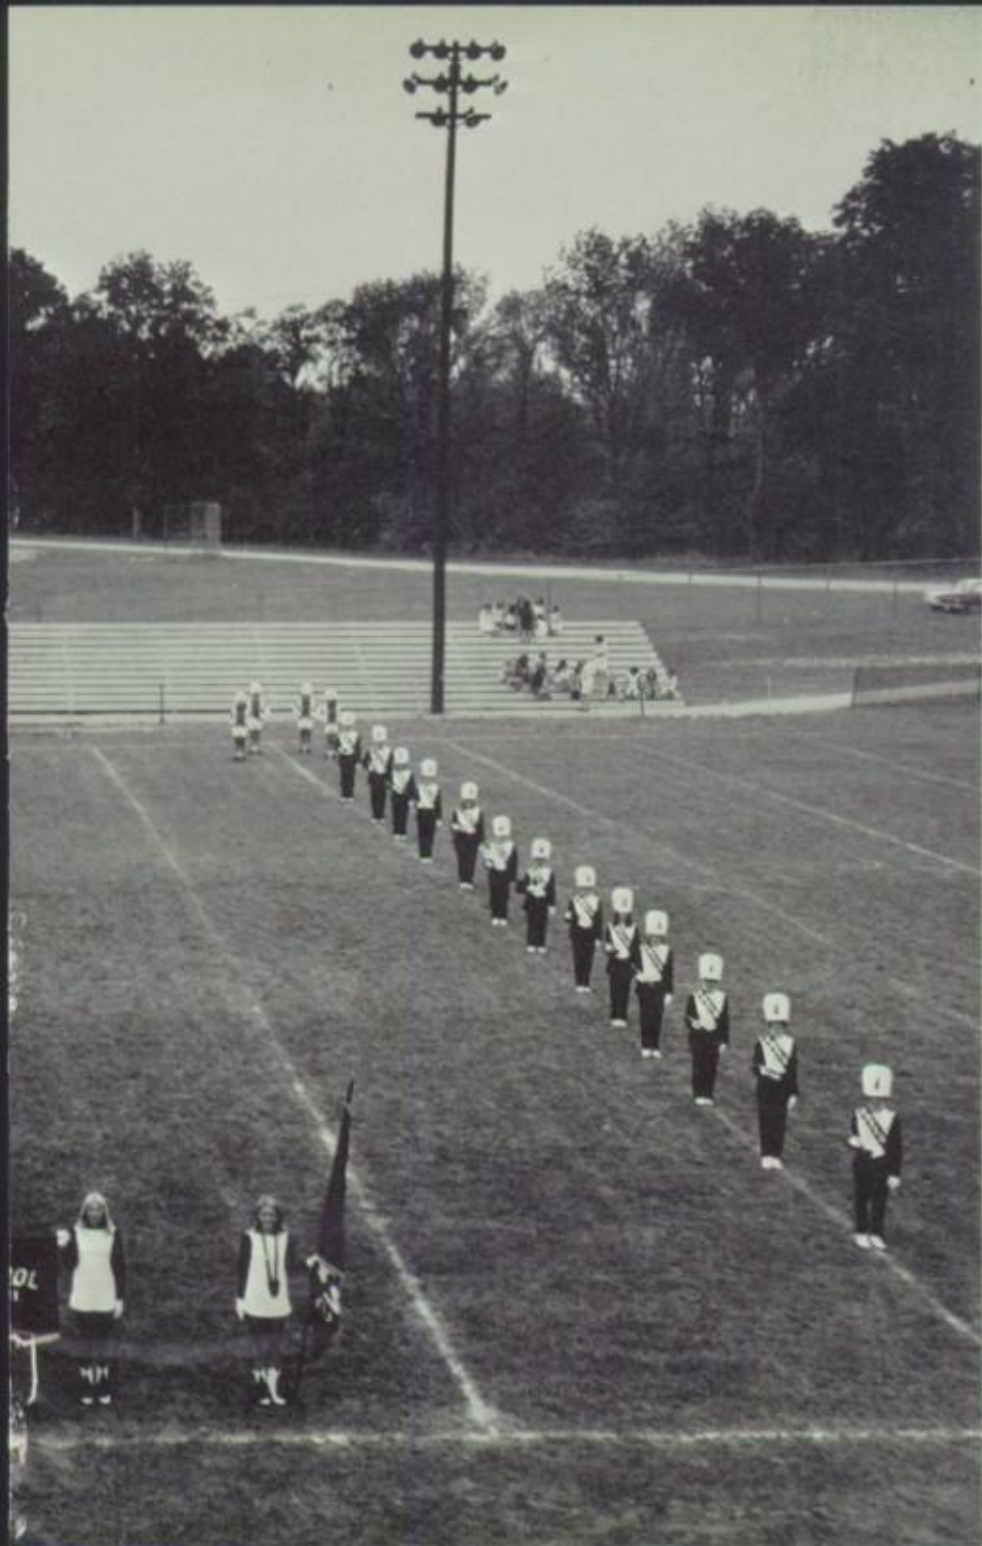

Mr. Robinson, the director, prepared the band for an upcoming performance.

The new uniforms made a good showing.

Practice was necessary to learn new musical selections

Amelia Band Rated High

Marching 60 strong this year, the Amelia High School Band made a tremendous showing at parades, games, and contests. In September they went to Portsmouth River Days Parade where they received an honorable recognition. In October they marched at Sycamore and received a rating of excellent. A trophy was presented to them when they marched in the Oakley Parade for best all-around band.

The band presented half-time shows at all the football games during the season and gave a concert at Christmas and springtime with a new look because they wore new uniforms furnished by the Music Parents Association.

The brass section went over a hard part in a number.

The stage band performed for the Homecoming Dance.

SENIOR MEMBERS

FIRST ROW: Barbara Stockton, Marlene Boggess. SECOND ROW: Margaret Jones, Janeth Fley, Debbie Sellmeyer, Jackie Martin, Sally Niehaus, Janis Schrag, Sue Richardson, Cheryl Haas, Susan Cummins.

Pauline Moore, Debbie Coe, and Brenda Holden hurried onto the football field for a performance.

Debbie Sellmeyer and Janis Schrag practiced their half-time routine.

Amelia Boot and Tassel Marched With Spirit

The Boot and Tassel is made up of sophomore, junior, and senior girls who promote school spirit during the year.

This year, besides marching at all home and away football games and home basketball games, they competed with the band in several contests. They won first place in the Annie Oakley Parade and received an excellent rating in the Sycamore competition held last October.

To raise funds, the drill team sold, for the first time, booster buttons as well as the usual football tags. They also sponsored a dance after a football game.

OFFICERS: Evelyn Leonard, Vice-President; Sue Richardson, President; Debbie Sellmeyer, Secretary-Treasurer.

Baronettes Twirled High

The majorettes, color guard, and drum major performed during the football season and competed with the band at Portsmouth and at Sycamore in the fall.

The majorettes took baton lessons each week from Bonnie Heimann, former feature twirler from U.C., for routines at football and basketball games. They twirled fire and helium-filled balloons at Homecoming for an added attraction.

Marching in the Color Guard were Cecilia Thompson, Vicki Spurgeon, Mary Hafer, Kathy Moler, and Chris Mathers.

The Twirling Baronettes, Carol Middleton, Janey Rose, Beth Fogwell, and Joan Hensgen, flashed their batons at games, parades, and contests.

Paul Barbro, Drum Major, and Janey Rose, Head Majorette, practice tosses before the game.

The chorus was divided into two classes which practiced daily during school hours.

Amelia Heard Both Classical and Popular Music

The Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Timothy Duncan, performed many times during the year. They entertained at the annual Christmas concert, a special concert for Bethel High School, the Honor Society tapping, and Awards Day. The chorus also combined with Glen Este's chorus for the West Clermont Music Festival.

Under the direction of James Milner, the Dixie Barons played at all home basketball games and pep assemblies. With the rhythmic beat of their pop music, the school pep band promoted enthusiasm and school spirit.

Elected Council Headed Music Groups

VARSITY QUADRUPLE TRIO

FIRST ROW: Mary Pence, Sandra Gaskins, Joan Wooley.
SECOND ROW: Alicia Cook, Sharon Shepherd, Marlene Boggess.
THIRD ROW: Debbie Sellmeyer, Christine Meyer, Karen Tonkin.
FOURTH ROW: Jackie Martin, Patricia Hunt.

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE TRIPLE TRIO

FIRST ROW: Pamela Wright, Barbara Nicholas, Jennie Wells.
SECOND ROW: Sharilyn Wilson, Janet Thompson, Harriet Pence.
THIRD ROW: Kathryn Martin, Carolyn Sears, Vickie Ward.
FOURTH ROW: Beverly Glos, Carrie Sterling, Margaret Wolf.

The Music Council, which consisted of students elected by members of the band and chorus, was the governing body of the music department. Since one of its responsibilities was fund-raising, it sponsored a candy sale in the fall.

The Varsity Quadruple Trio, the Junior Triple Trio, and the Freshman-Sophomore Triple Trio performed many times during the year. These musical groups participated in the Christmas concert, the West Clermont Music Festival, and the District Contest.

Two of the groups had extra activities. The Varsity Quadruple Trio sang with the Stage Band, and the Mixed Ensemble gave a musical skit for the Wyoming Presbyterian Church and selected sixteen of its members to attend the Ohio Wesleyan Music Festival.

JUNIOR TRIPLE TRIO

Student Assistants Served Faculty and Pupils

On a volunteer basis, many students helped in the bookstore, office, library, and language lab.

The bookstore workers sold school supplies while the office help answered the phone, collected absentee lists, and helped anyone needing information in the office. The language lab assistants ran the lab equipment for students wishing to study for tests. The student librarians took the library cards of the pupils using the library to their study halls, put books back on the shelves and helped the librarian check out books.

BOOKSTORE HELP

FIRST ROW: Alice Hutt, Michele Forste, Penny Hicks, Sharon Shepherd, Peggy Upton, Georgia Nickloes. SECOND ROW: Frank Kools, Paula Shrive, Raymond Wright, Randy Kirschner, Gail Brooks, Douglas Waddle, Gregory Wagner, Thomas Manning, Brian Cookson.

Roger Bick, lab assistant, tested some equipment in the language lab.

LAB ASSISTANTS

Students Excelled In Fall Play

Troupe 2556 of the National Thespian Society honors Amelia students who excel in and promote dramatic arts in the school.

In the fall, fifteen amateur actresses and actors played roles in "Arsenic and Old Lace." This play, directed by Mrs. Herrlinger and student-directed by Margaret Jones, portrayed two elderly aunts who had an obsession for poisoning people.

Jonathan resented
Mr. Klein's remark.

NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY

KNEELING: James Davis. FIRST ROW: Thomas Manning, Vicki Ludlow, Raymond Conover, Jackie Martin, Mrs. Herrlinger, Sponsor; Deno Koumoutsos, Elise Elliott, Lynne Pharo, Richard Conover, Dan Batchler. SECOND ROW: Margaret Jones, Marlene Boggess, Patricia Hunt, Rodney Gideons, Steve Strosnider, Monica Connell.

Mortimer persuaded the aunts not to poison people.

Mr. Randall came to help with the props.

Members of the cast were Mark Ryan, Gary Brooks, James Tonkin, James Davis, Jackie Martin, Deno Koumoutsos, Elise Elliott, Monica Connell, Raymond Conover, Steve Strosnider, Vicki Ludlow, John Ackman, Brian Cookson, Ted Curtsinger, Daryl Anderson.

'69 Staff Accomplished Many Firsts on Yearbook

This year, for the first time, the annual staff gave up the first period each day to work on the yearbook. In this class, the staff wrote copy and headlines, cropped over five hundred photographs, and checked and double checked everything.

The staff had several other firsts this year: they sold 690 annuals, almost two hundred more than last year; used a different color on each divider page; and doubled the size of last year's supplement.

After the final deadline, the staff was exhausted but proud because they had finished a yearbook which was their best effort.

Miss Nolte, Sponsor, and Richard Conover, Editor, displayed the trophy received for improvement over a three-year period.

The members of the editorial staff were Janey Rose, Activities; Janeth Fley, Underclassmen; Terry White, Activities; Lois Ellis, Faculty; Raymond Conover, Seniors; John Petri, Sports; and Larry Stoffel, Advertising.

Danny Crow and Kathleen Mason discussed the annual staff picture schedule.

Counting the subscription money were Terry White, Business Manager; Vicki Ludlow, Assistant Editor; Carole Shaffer, Assistant Editor; and Judy Jett, Sales Manager.

Gary Cundiff, Sandra Gaskins, Judy Johnson, Kathleen Mason, Dennis Cooper, Danny Crow, and Patti Carter prepared to meet a deadline.

New Staff and Advisor Took Over BARON SPEAKS

Mary Lou Sigsby and Kathie Idlett, Co-Editors, and Mr. DeMaris discussed the newspaper.

The newspaper got off to a fresh start this year with a new sponsor, Mr. Charles DeMaris, and a completely new staff. The staff was not inexperienced, however, as members had attended a journalism workshop at Ohio University the previous summer.

The newspaper was printed in the school print shop with the help of Mr. Caudill. A new process was employed, in which the articles were typed on a master sheet with a special typewriter ribbon.

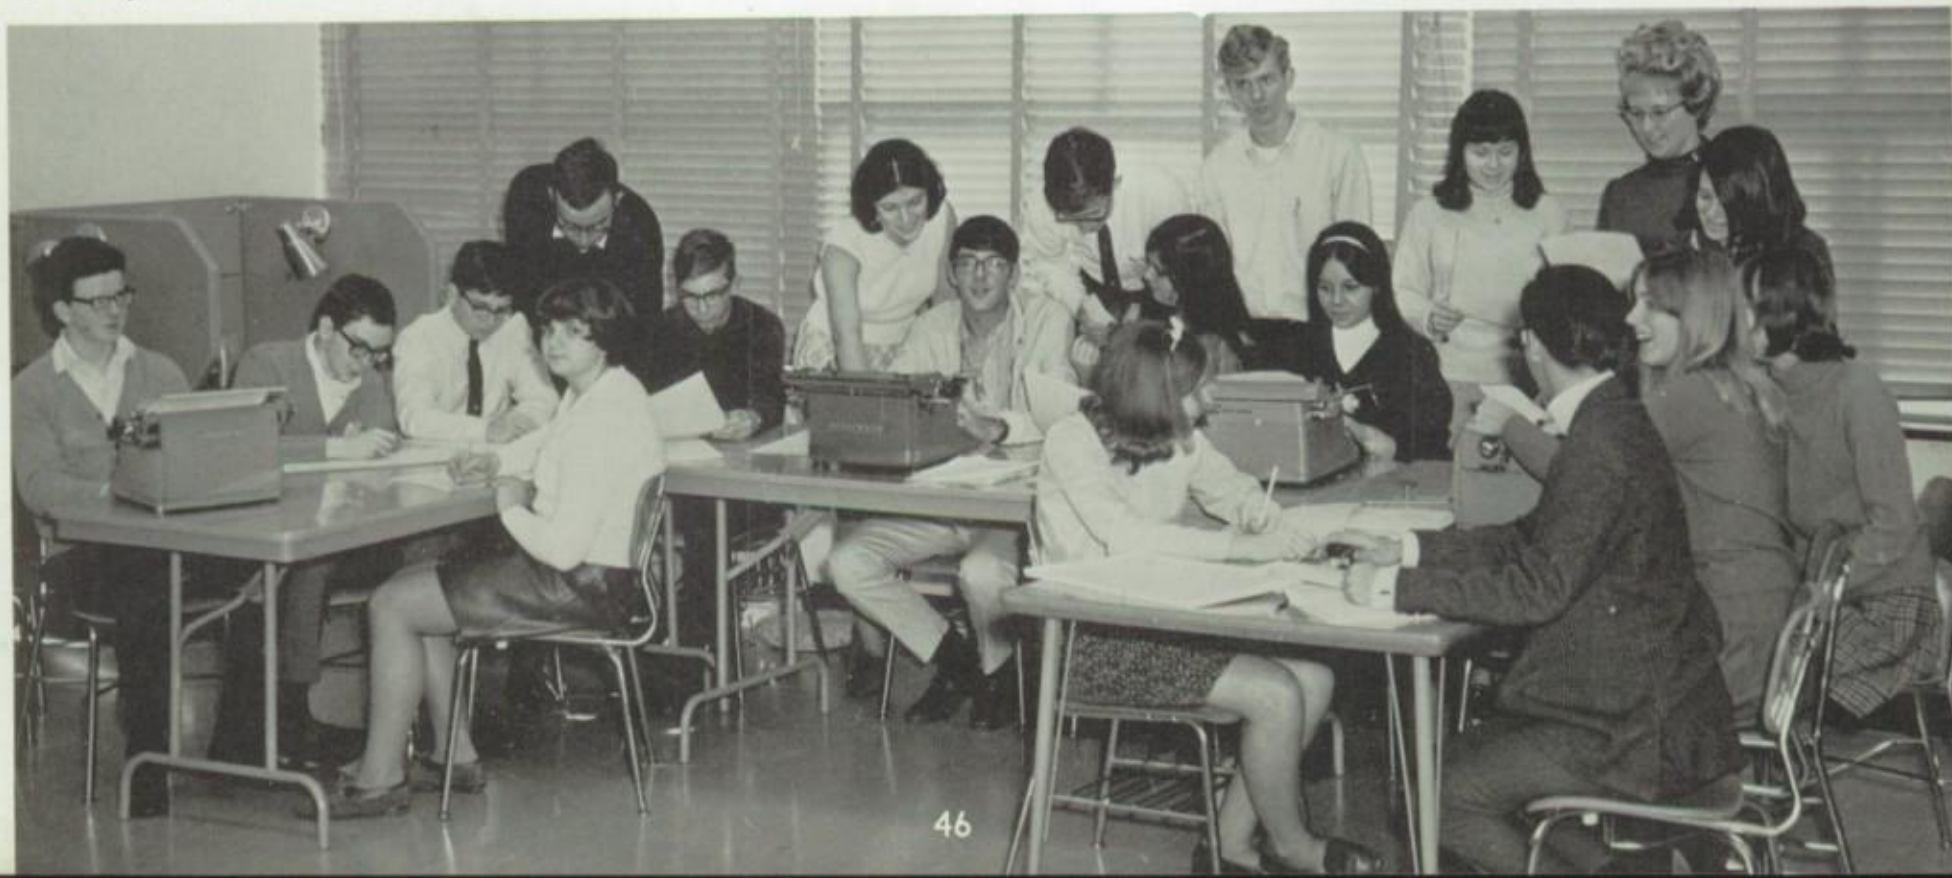

Items in the newspaper included articles on the activities of the various clubs, reports on the many sport events, opinions of the students on certain school rules, letters to the editor, and a gossip column.

Patricia Wood, Daryl Gilliland, and Cathy Crawford prepared the BARON SPEAKS for circulation.

G. Brooks, C. Rohling, L. Curlis, C. Frederick, S. Rohlfing, K. Kuhn, C. Middleton.

SEATED: J. Edie, J. Momberg, H. Wood, J. Wilder, J. Rennekamp, D. Gilliland, P. Wood, D. McAtee, C. Crawford, L. West, M. VanSickle, R. Conover. STANDING:

Sandra Gaskins, Danny Crow, Gary Cundiff, Janey Rose, Raymond Conover, and Larry Stoffel were yearbook initiates while Kay Strunk was a newspaper staff member.

Quill and Scroll Chapter Added Ten New Members

Quill and Scroll Society is an international honorary society for high school journalists. The membership is open to juniors and seniors who have made a significant contribution to the school yearbook or newspaper and are in the upper third of their class scholastically.

In December the four members from last year held a combination initiation and Christmas party for ten new members, nine seniors and one junior. The ceremony was accented by candlelight as Miss Nolte administered the pledge of the society to the initiates and presented their membership pins and cards to them. Afterwards, members of the yearbook and newspaper staffs participated in games and ate a picnic supper.

Officers were Richard Conover, President; Janeth Fley, Vice-President; Lois Ellis, Historian; Terry White, Secretary; Miss Nolte, Sponsor.

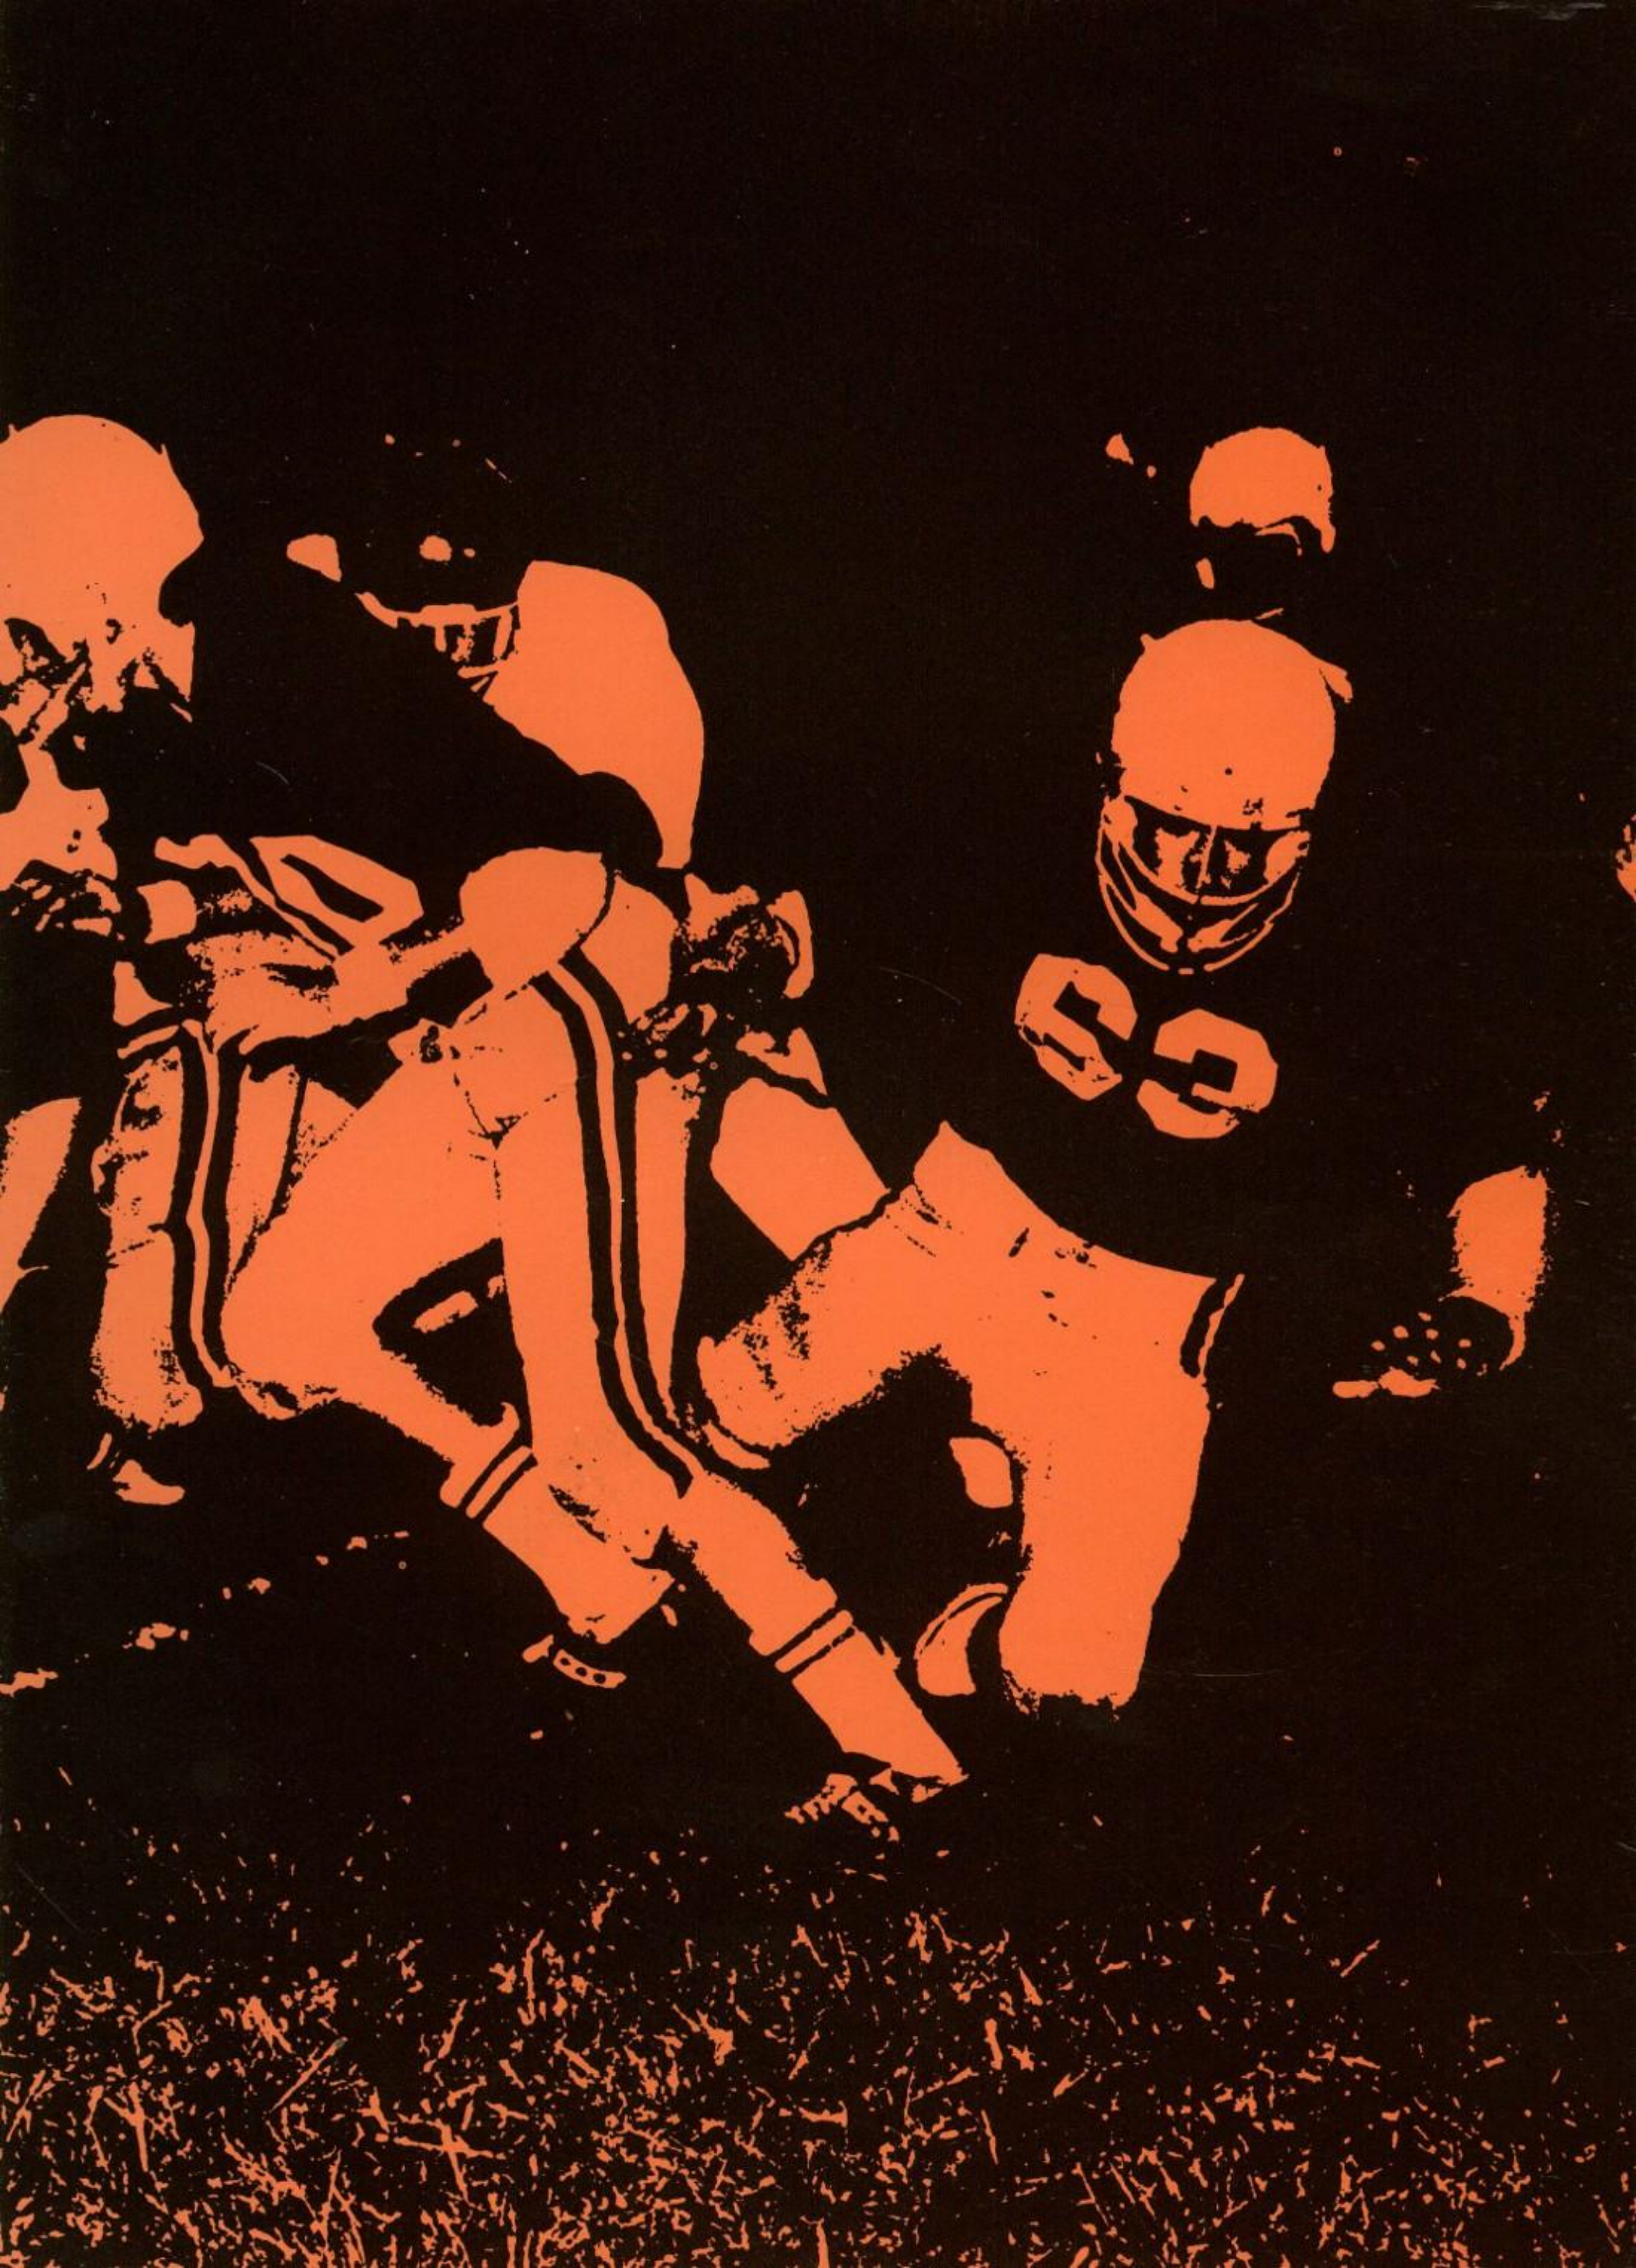

SPORTS Unite In Familiar Forms Of Impressions

Sports ... a factory of impressions ... apprehension on a parent's face when his son is put into a game ... cross-country boys ... striving to build endurance for long runs ... wrestling team ... practicing different holds on each other ... basketball squad ... attempting 10 out of 10 free throws ... football players ... trying for a first down ...

sports ... impressing the need for a combined effort ... team co-operation ... leading to a victory over an arch rival ... a nod of approval from a coach ... learning to take defeat in stride ... always struggling to improve ... sports ... casting impressions of challenge to every participant ...

Barbara Stockton helped Mr. Jones with some of his athletic duties.

FIRST ROW: Mr. Stewart, Mr. Caudill, Mr. Phillips. SECOND ROW: Mr. Hayslip, Mr. Richardson, Mr. Wiesenbahn, Mr. Conyers.

Coaches Harmonized Teams' Abilities

Mr. Thomas Jones, athletic director, had many duties to perform this year. They varied from checking the athletic equipment for each sports event to scheduling all league and non-league games.

The coaches of the freshman and reserve teams had the job of teaching the boys the fundamentals of the game. They also tried to instill in the boys a feeling of school spirit and pride for their team and their school. The varsity coaches continued these instructions on a higher level. They concentrated on teaching the team advanced techniques and more complicated plays. The coaches worked throughout the year to help develop ability and interest in the field of sports.

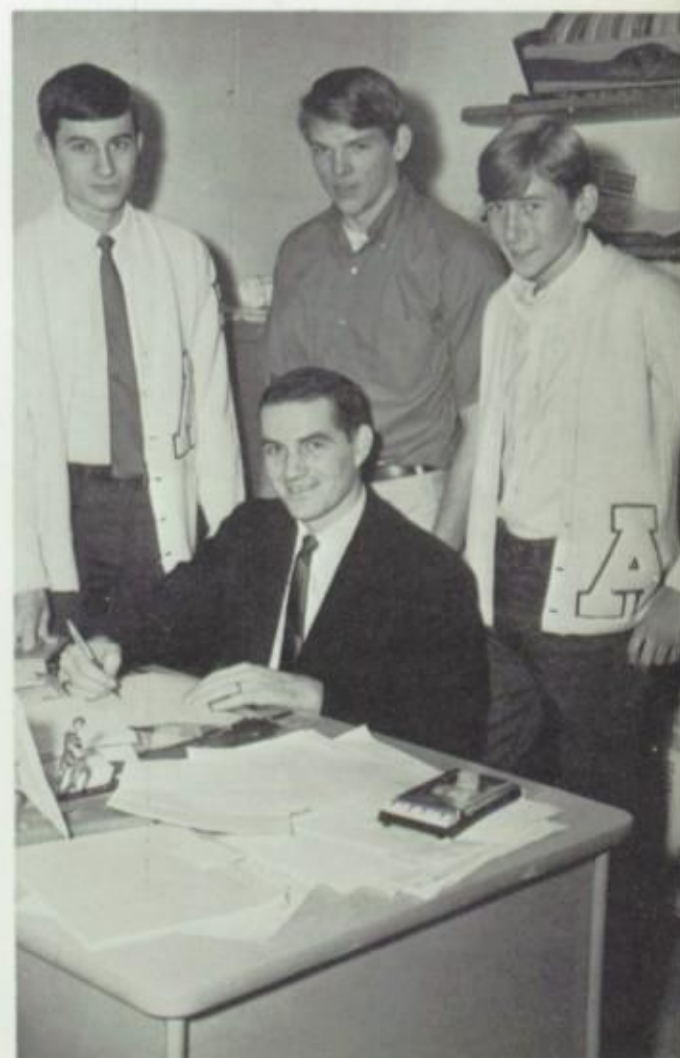

Mr. Frank Conyers, Sponsor, congratulated John VanFossen after receiving his Varsity A jacket.

Lettermen Petitioned for Club Membership

The Varsity A Club brought together boys who earned a letter in sports. Those wishing admission to Varsity A filled out applications at the beginning of the school year. The members voted on the candidates, and approved applicants were then accepted into the club.

The club's activities for this year included participation in the Homecoming parade, arranging the trophy case, and making posters before athletic events. Each year the lettermen select the Outstanding Senior Athlete of the year, a deserving senior who has actively participated in sports during high school.

Varsity lettermen sat in the formation of an A to symbolize athletic achievement.

Officers were Mr. Charles Hayslip, Sponsor; Dale Robertson, Vice-President; Ronald Klaas, President; Donald Stewart, Secretary-Treasurer.

The 1968 Varsity football co-captains were Ron Klaas and Paul Kendall.

Coach Conyers calls in the play.

The drill team and cheerleaders welcome the players back for the second half.

Battling Barons Have 4-5 Record for Season

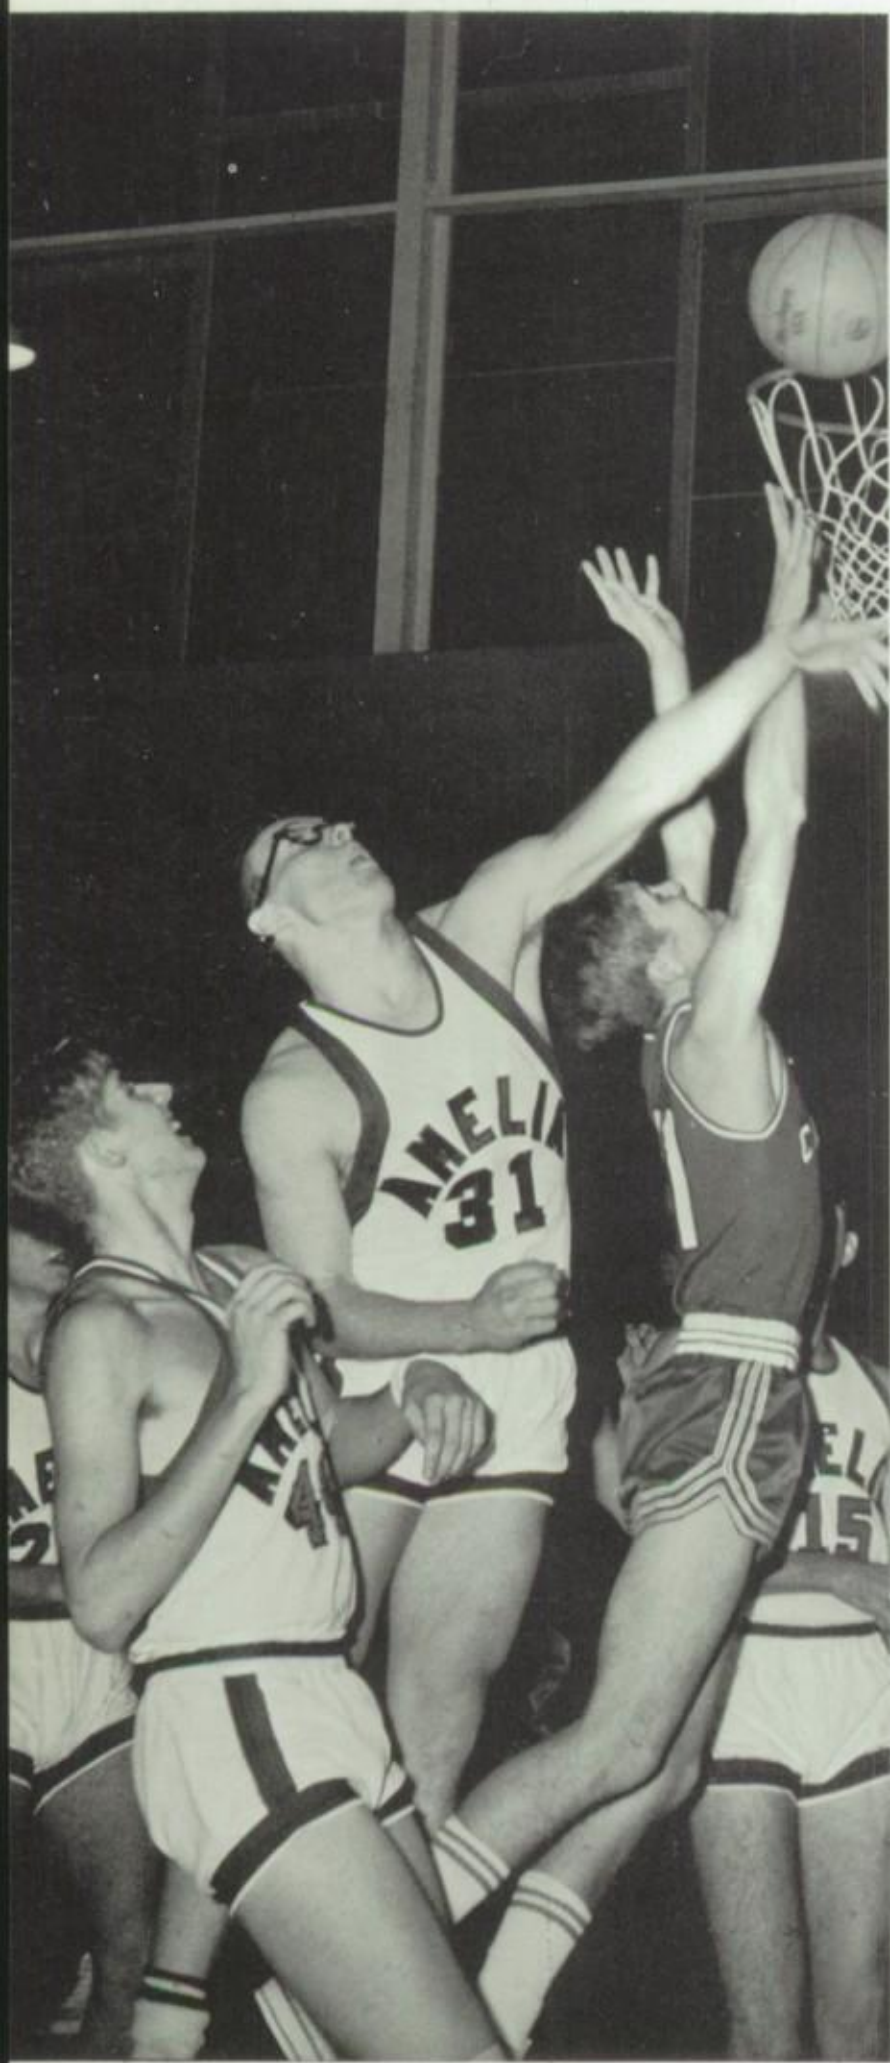

The victory over Glen Este, which began the season, boosted the morale of both the team and the supporters. Unfortunately, the Barons went on to lose all their league games. This 0-4 record for the league gave the varsity team last place in the C.C.L.

The Barons' schedule also included five non-league games. One of the highlights of the non-league season took place when the Barons came back in the second half of the Milford game and scored twenty-six points to win it by a touchdown. The team finished the non-league season by defeating all of their opponents except Deer Park.

As a Country Day player tries to break through the line, Randy Knipp and David Cole block his way.

Varsity Team Fought to Gain Fourth Place Position

Robert Dougherty attempted to retrieve the ball from ambitious Cardinals.

Barons added two points in the last quarter.

Barons Ended Season With a 7-11 Record

The varsity basketball team fought a hard battle to gain its fourth place position in the league. The season started slowly with three losses, but after gaining experience and confidence, the team defeated Goshen. It was also at Goshen that the first pep bus was chartered by the Student Council to boost morale and spirit.

After School Spirit Week, held January 27 through January 31, the Barons got on the winning road and stayed there consistently throughout the remainder of the season.

After the regular season was finished, the varsity team entered the city-wide tournaments. They played Western Hills in the University of Cincinnati's field house.

James McCracken and Guy Brose overpowered the Cardinals' offense.

A frequent sight between quarters was a huddle of players surrounding Coach Hayslip.

Reserves Won County Championship in '68

A near-perfect season was the pride of the '68 reserve football team. They lost their first game but got on the winning road at the next game and stayed there right through the rest of the season.

Team effort, with coaching from Mr. Caudill and Mr. Wiesenbahn, proved profitable, for the squad finished the season in first place in the Clermont County League with a 7-1 record. The defense helped the cause by limiting their opposition to only 26 points compared to the Barons' 188 points.

These impressive statistics gave a bright outlook to next year's squad.

Carl Bissantz anxiously waited for a pass.

Practice made the reserves a winning team.

Coach Caudill, Co-Captains Ken Montague and Edward Jennings, and Coach Wiesenbahn led the team in a successful season.

Reserves Completed Season With 9-9 Overall Record

After dropping their first game, the reserve basketball team won almost consistently, concluding the season with a 9-9 overall record.

Under the guidance of Coach Richardson, the team practiced four afternoons a week, improving on the basic fundamentals as well as developing passing and shooting techniques. Although losing one member to the varsity squad, the reserve team was unified. As a result, its members came through when the games became close and won three games by only two points.

The reserve team did not have co-captains but felt that the honor should be rotated. Before each game Coach Richardson chose the boy he felt had shown the best leadership, attitude, or overall performance during the previous week.

With a 7-5 league record, the reserve basketball team finished third in the Clermont County League.

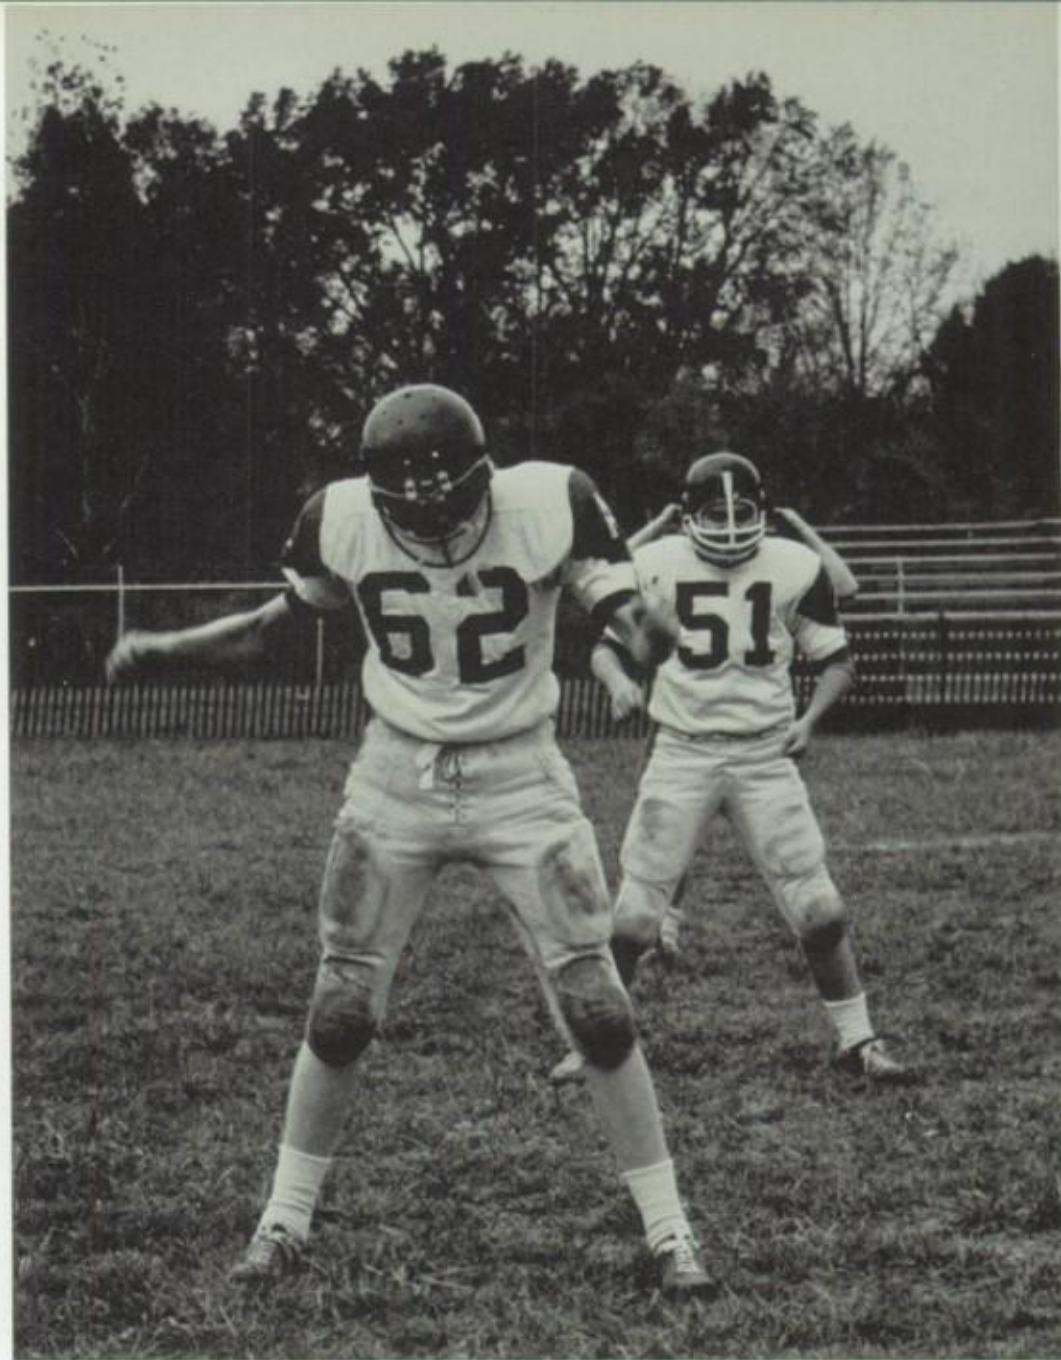

Frosh Achieved 3-3 Record

Since this year was the first for the freshman players to compete in high school football, Coach Stewart tried to teach the team the fundamentals of the game as well as inspiring school spirit in them. To prepare themselves for the games and scrimmages, the boys practiced and exercised daily throughout the season.

The '68 freshman football team finished the season with a 3-3 record. Scrimmages were played with Bethel and New Richmond, both ending in a tie.

Freshmen Finished First

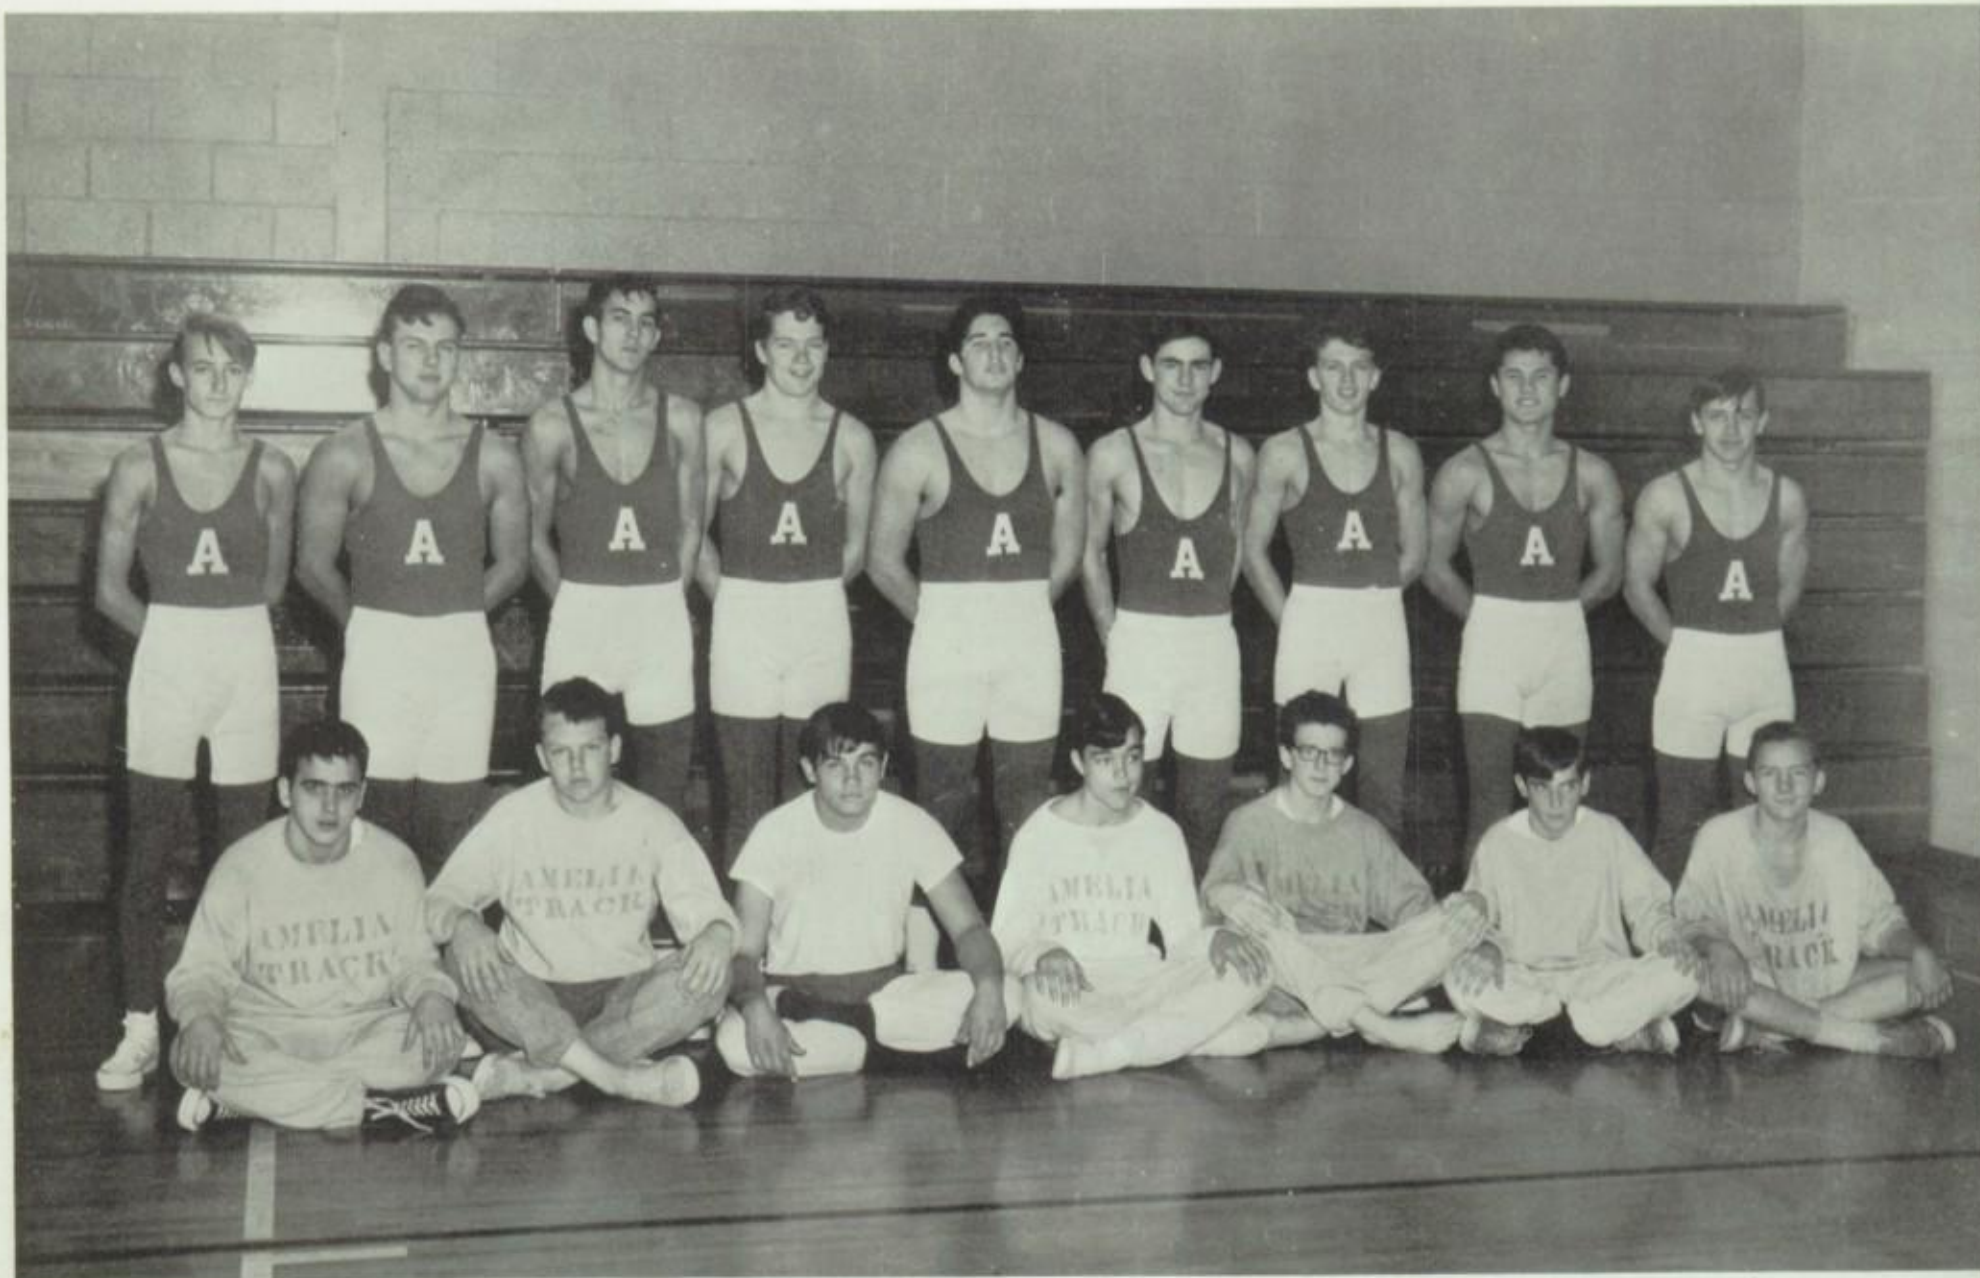

Under the direction of Coach James Wiesenhahn, the freshman basketball team had a successful season. Finishing the year with a 6-0 league and 2-2 non-league record gave the freshmen the CCL championship.

Leading the freshmen was captain and marksman Curtis Putnam. Coupled with his jumping and shooting abilities, his spirit kept the team alive.

Although the freshman team was not given as much recognition as the varsity or reserve squads, it was competitive and emphasized both individual ability and coordination needed as a varsity player.

Intramurals Helped to Develop School Spirit

The intramural program was reorganized this year under the leadership of Mr. Jones. Its purpose was to promote recreational activities for the boys who were not able to participate in interscholastic sports, yet wanted to remain active in athletics.

The individual and team spirit gave each boy the opportunity to further develop skills already learned while he continued to learn new activities.

In the junior and senior basketball play-off the Royals won the championship. The Bullets occupied first place after the freshman play-offs, and the Born Losers captured first place for the sophomores.

Cheerleading Squads Showed Loyal Support

Two squads who showed loyal support to the Barons were the Varsity and Reserve Cheerleaders. Kathy King and Patti Hicks were co-captains of the Varsity Squad, and Melissa Shanabrook headed the Reserve squad. The cheerleaders were present at all the home and away games to cheer the Barons on to victory, encourage school spirit, and promote good sportsmanship. In their world of jumps, cartwheels, and splits, the cheerleaders created enthusiasm during the football and basketball seasons.

Both squads attended a cheerleading clinic in September at U.C.'s gymnasium. At this clinic they learned new methods in cheering their teams to victory.

The Varsity squad performs the cheer "Roll Call."

Patti Hicks, Kathy King, Debbie Light, Monica Connell, Linda Stephens, and Penny Hicks, took time out to view the football field from the press box.

Home of AMELIA,

During the Homecoming game, the Varsity Cheerleaders wore corsages given to them by the Student Council.

Melissa Shanabrook performed many sideline cheers throughout the year.

Reserve cheerleaders of 1968-69 were Barbara Berwanger, Melissa Shanabrook, Barbara Nicholas, Brenda Sellmeyer, Charlene Coffee, and Connie Shannon.

Nancy Knox set up the ball, hoping that a teammate could put it over the net.

Returning the ball back over the net was an easy accomplishment for Peggy Upton.

Miss Fisher looked for a basketball schedule.

Interscholastic Sports Continued Competition

The Girls Reserve Basketball Team ended its season with a winning game.

The girls interscholastic sports were continued for the second year. They played other schools in volleyball, basketball, and softball.

At the end of the year the members chose the girl they felt deserved the Most Valuable Player Award.

The sponsor, Miss Carol Fisher, also advised the GAA and the varsity cheerleaders. With her guidance, all three groups were able to expand their programs.

For the second year the Varsity Basketball Team competed with neighboring schools.

The junior and senior girls took an active part in the sports program.

Jan Montague attempted to return the ball during a ping pong match.

Freshman and sophomore girls learned many techniques in their athletic endeavors.

GAA Added Events

GAA, which added new activities to its many regular events, gave girls a chance to participate in sports. The new games added this year were track, badminton, and ping pong.

Another new project was publishing basketball programs. The members also sponsored their annual dance in February and finished the year by honoring their mothers at a banquet held in May.

Nancy Knox and Kathy King made sure that the birdie went over the net.

Miss Carol Fisher and Karen Hall watched Charlene Coffee try to bring in the girl on third.

New Heads Met Challenge of Year

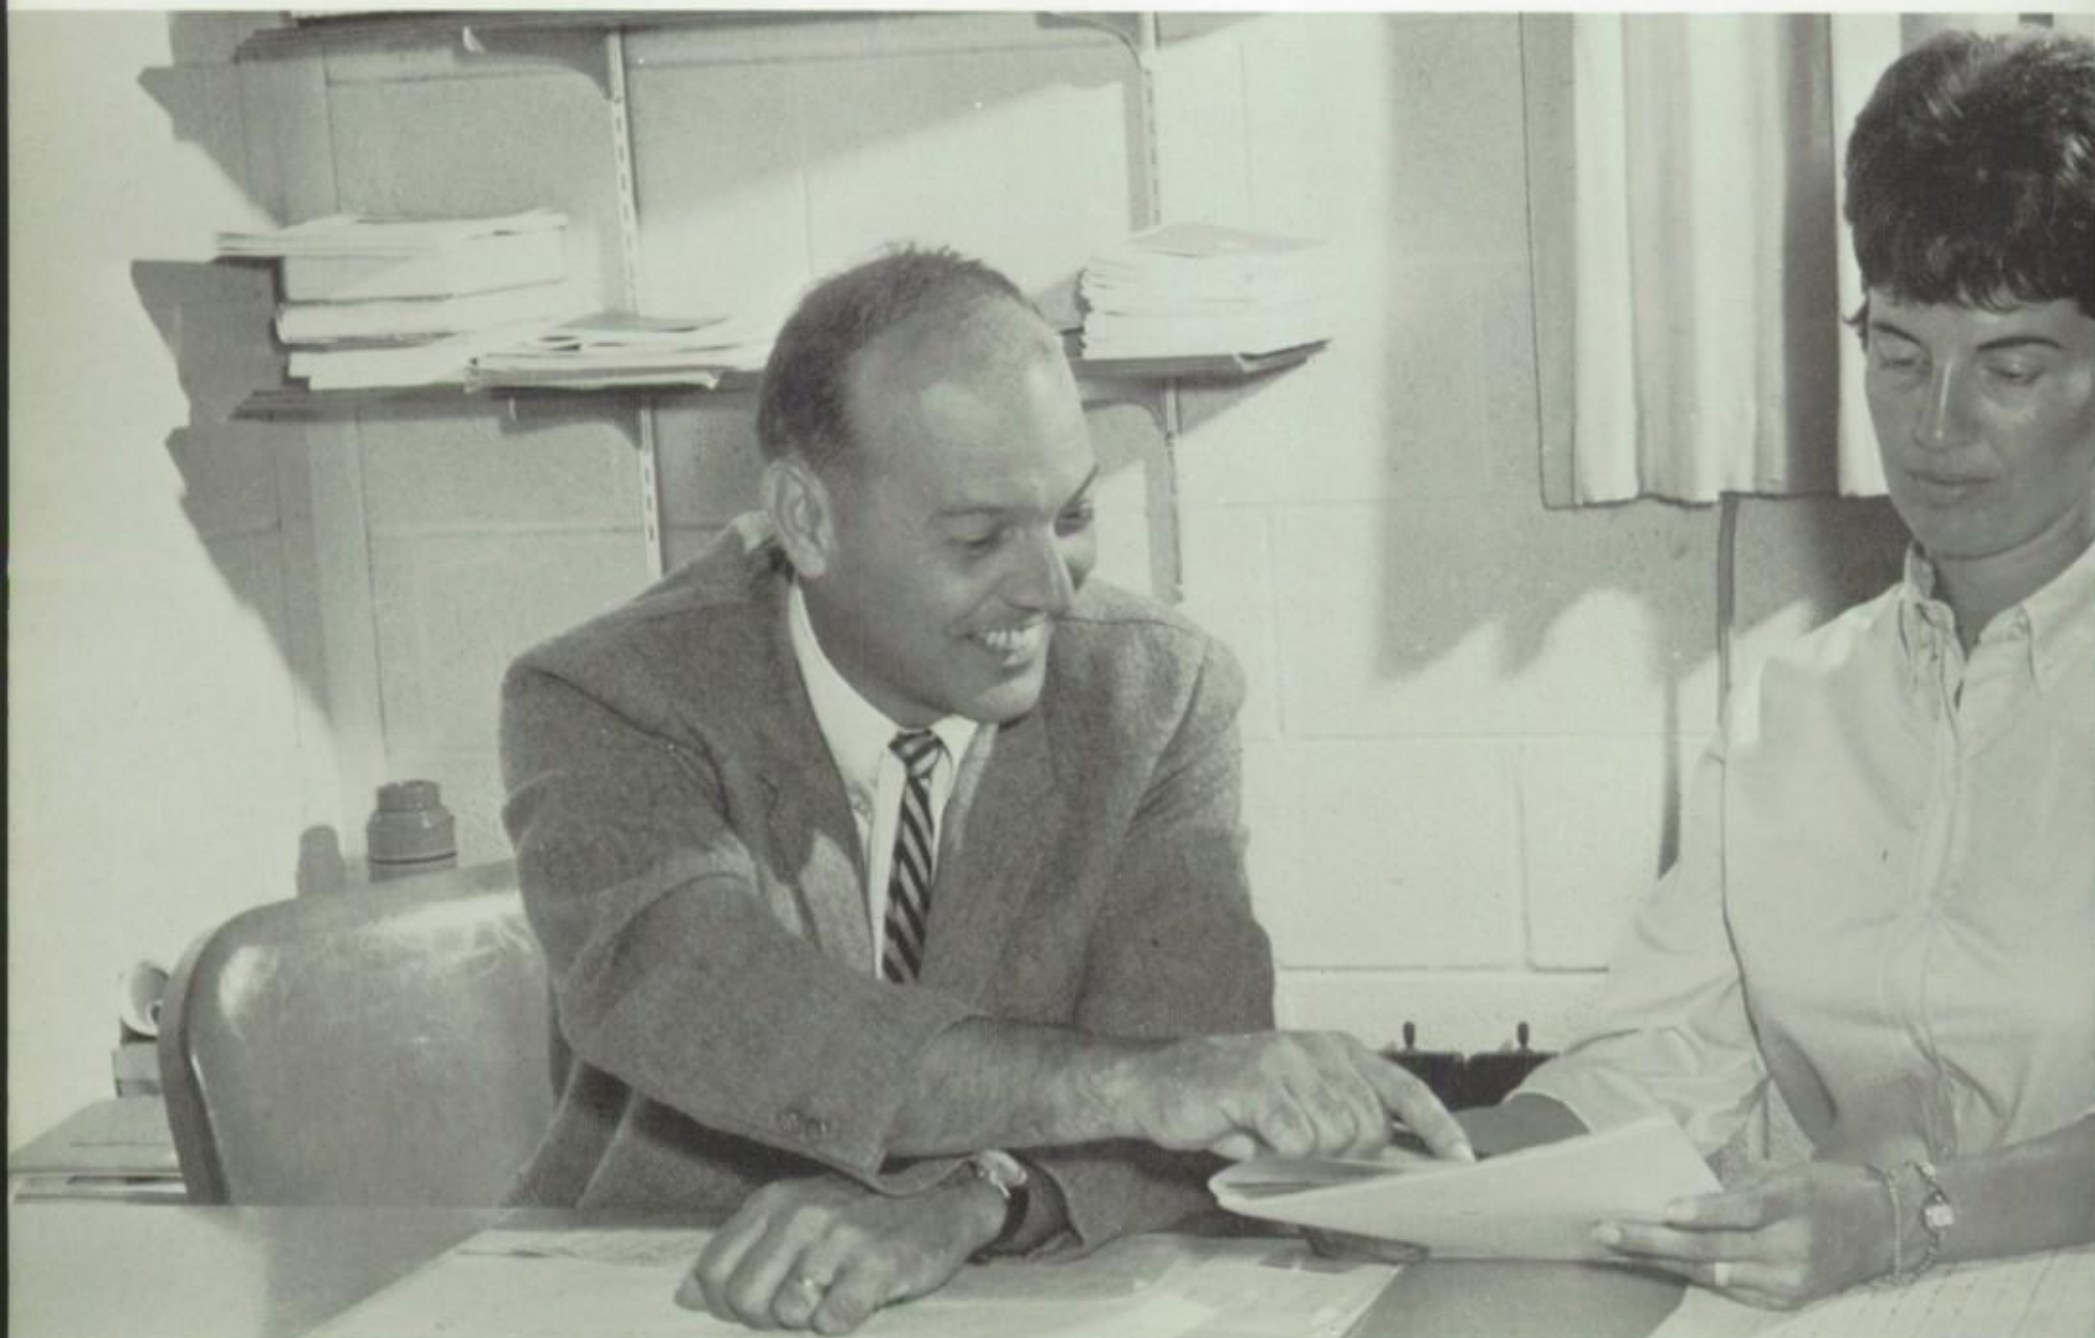

This year Amelia High School was under the leadership of a new administration. The new principal, who came from Northmont High School, was Mr. Raymond Amigo. Working with students and teachers was only a small part of his job, which was one busy day after another. Mr. Amigo attended more meetings than most people realize, always trying to find new ways to make Amelia a better high school.

Mr. Thomas Griswold, assistant principal, supervised bookstore supplies, discipline problems, and attendance records. In his work he came into contact with many aspects of high school life.

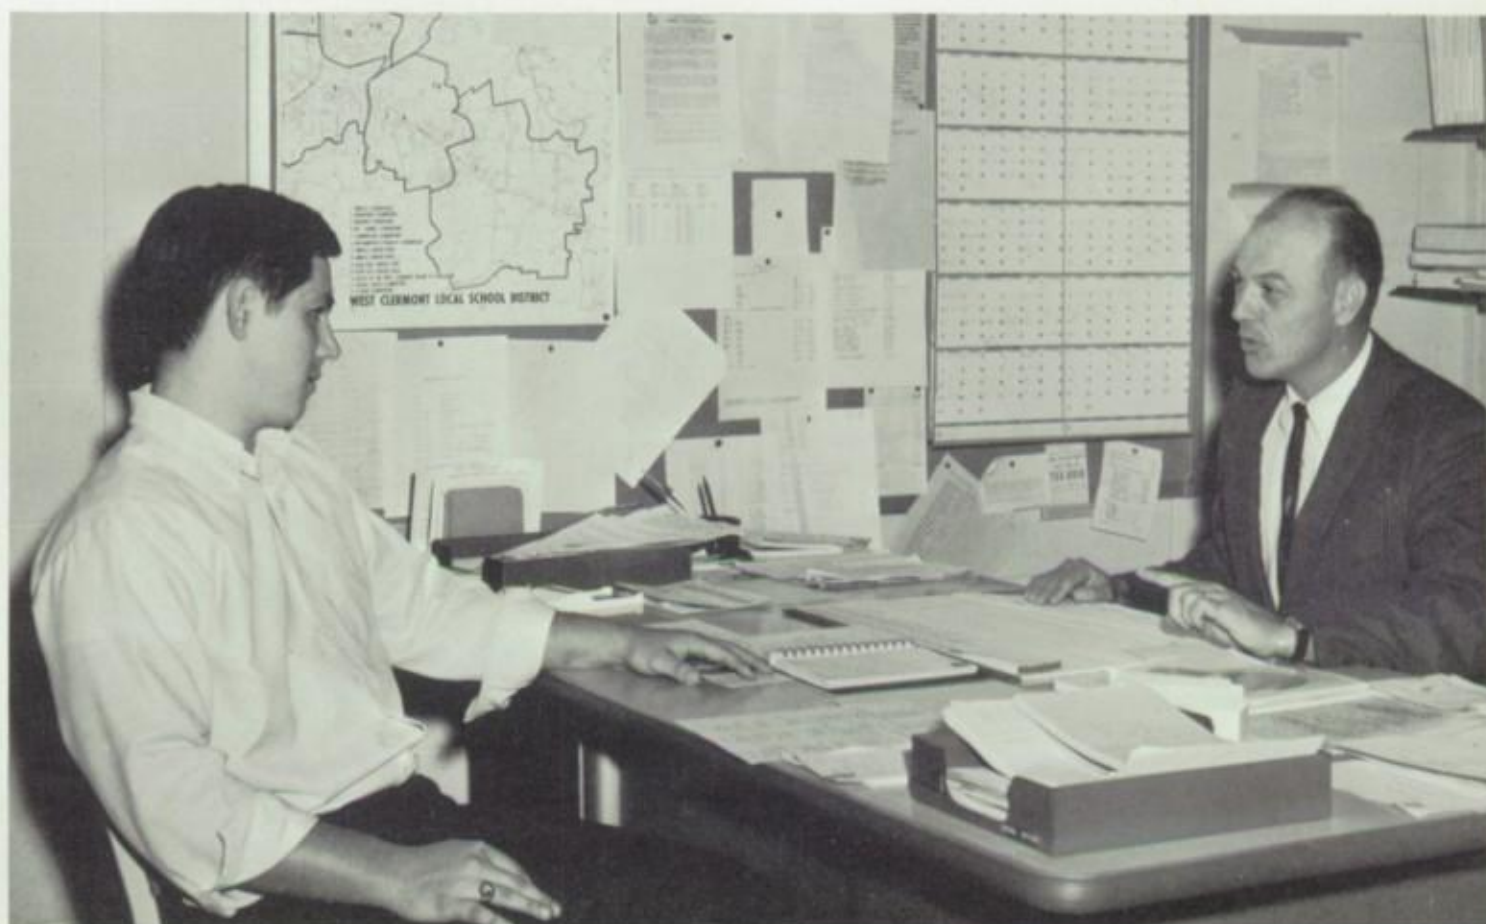

Mr. Griswold and his secretary, Mrs. Record, confer about a call from a concerned parent.

Foreign Languages Enriched Understanding

Each year more and more students have taken foreign language courses. Whether they used their knowledge to understand French or Spanish idioms or to aid them on a European tour, fluency in a foreign language helped these students understand their own language better.

The demand for modern languages in many professions made it necessary for the foreign language department to enlarge its curriculum. Also, new aspects of the language such as the history, geography, and culture of the country were taught in an attempt to make the study of the language more interesting.

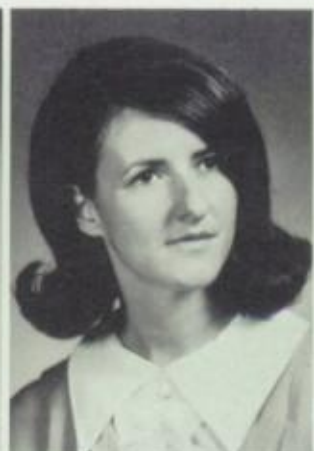

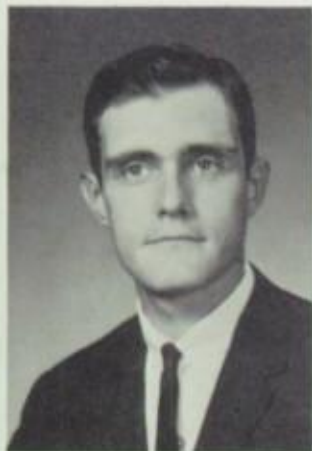

English Courses Basic to All Other Subjects

Perhaps the most useful subject a student may take is English, because it teaches him what to say, how and when to say it. Being so valuable a subject, English is strongly encouraged as a four-year subject although only three years are required.

The English courses are divided into various levels of difficulty and designed for different purposes. The college preparatory student takes a course involving hours of writing themes and term papers. For those planning to enter the business world upon graduation, Business English teaches them many practicalities they will find necessary in future occupations. Other English courses are beneficial to the majority of the student body in a thousand ways. Basic to everything learned is an understanding of the language in which it will be conveyed to others.

After a lecture on successful debating, Mrs. Herrlinger found relief at the fountain.

Social Studies Provided Sound Backgrounds

Social studies courses help students by giving them a basis for understanding the present by knowing the past.

World history, American history, and government are required for graduation, but the student may also take psychology and sociology to round out his background in social studies.

Independent library research, lectures, class discussion, and movies provide extra help in appreciating the social studies courses. The goal of this part of the curriculum is always to warn the student of the mistakes of the past so they will not be repeated in the all-important future.

Mr. Angus selected records and films to supplement his work in class.

Maps helped Mrs. Walker's American history students visualize famous battles.

Science and Math Developed Concepts and Abilities

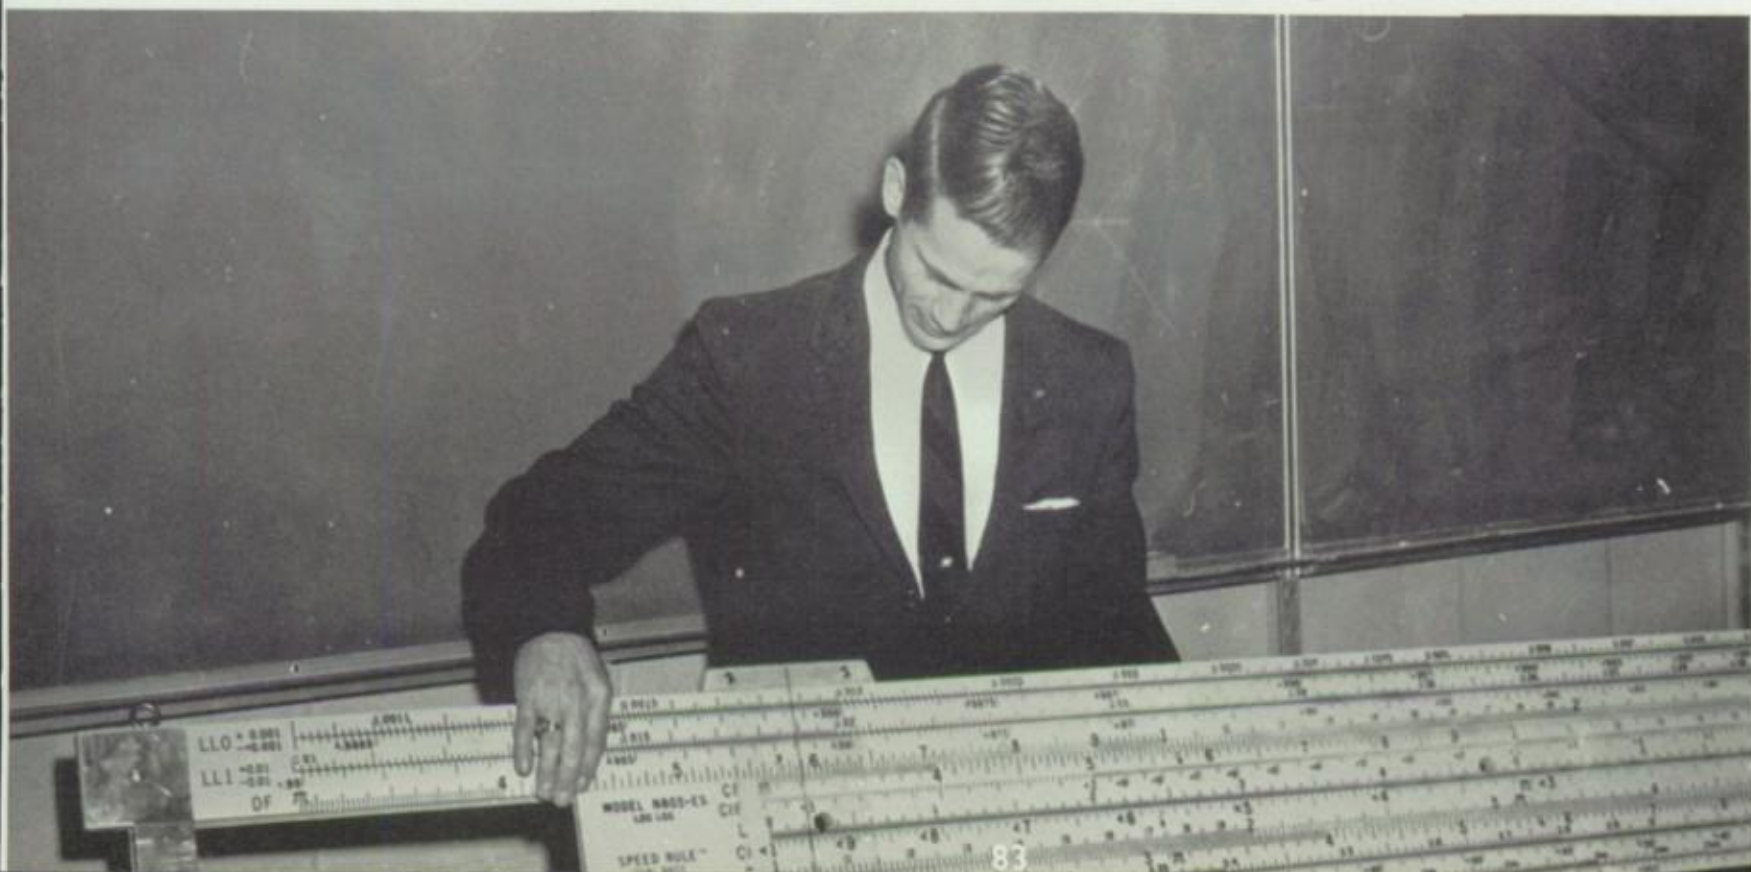

For students planning to continue their education after graduation, the fields of science and math have special importance.

With the colleges now requiring more credits in these areas, the departments have enlarged their facilities by adding a new biology lab and an advanced course, Math V. These science and math courses not only teach a student about a slide rule and elements in the atmosphere, but they also develop his reasoning ability and enlarge his understanding of the world around him.

Barbara Berwanger and Mr. Lutz talked over a difficult section in the science book.

Using the school's biggest slide rule, Mr. Miracle demonstrated a problem.

Miss Nolte checked Diane Robbins' progress in shorthand.

The class watched Mr. Pickrell put finishing touches on a chair leg.

Under Mrs. Lutz's supervision, Debby Frazier learned to use an adding machine.

Vocational Education Students Prepared for Their Future Careers

Career-minded students, as well as those planning to continue their education, can benefit from courses offered in the vocational field.

In general, there are three vocational areas: business, industrial arts, and home economics. The business courses, including typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice, prepare the student for an office job. Another phase of the business courses is distributive education, which develops skill in marketing, merchandising, and selling.

Drafting, woodworking, and metal-working combine to form the industrial arts section. Cooking, sewing, child care, decorating, and many of the other practical aspects of keeping a home are taught in home economics.

Miss Sears practiced being a perfect hostess when other teachers came to visit.

Specialized Fields Varied School Program

The area of specialized fields includes physical education, art, counseling, music, and nursing.

Since physical education develops a person physically, it is required of all freshmen and sophomores when most development occurs. A third and fourth year are advised for physical fitness.

In the art classes, the students work with paints, pastels, chalk, and the potter's wheel. Advanced art classes also have the privilege of using oils.

The music department is divided into two areas: vocal and instrumental. Talent developed in school is utilized at assemblies, concerts, games, and contests.

The counselors are available to students who need advice for problems of scheduling or grades. They are qualified to give help with almost any difficulty on which a student needs a professional opinion.

For anyone who needs medical attention, there is the nurse. In addition to this work, she also assists those who plan to pursue a career in medicine.

Juniors Won Prizes in Successful Year

This year the junior class participated in many school activities. They won, for the second year in a row, the float contest held at Homecoming. They chose as their theme "Tock It To 'Em Barons" to coincide with the three clocks they constructed.

The juniors also took an active part in the Christmas festivities sponsored by the Inter-Club Council. They decorated two doors, one of which was judged by a faculty committee as outstanding.

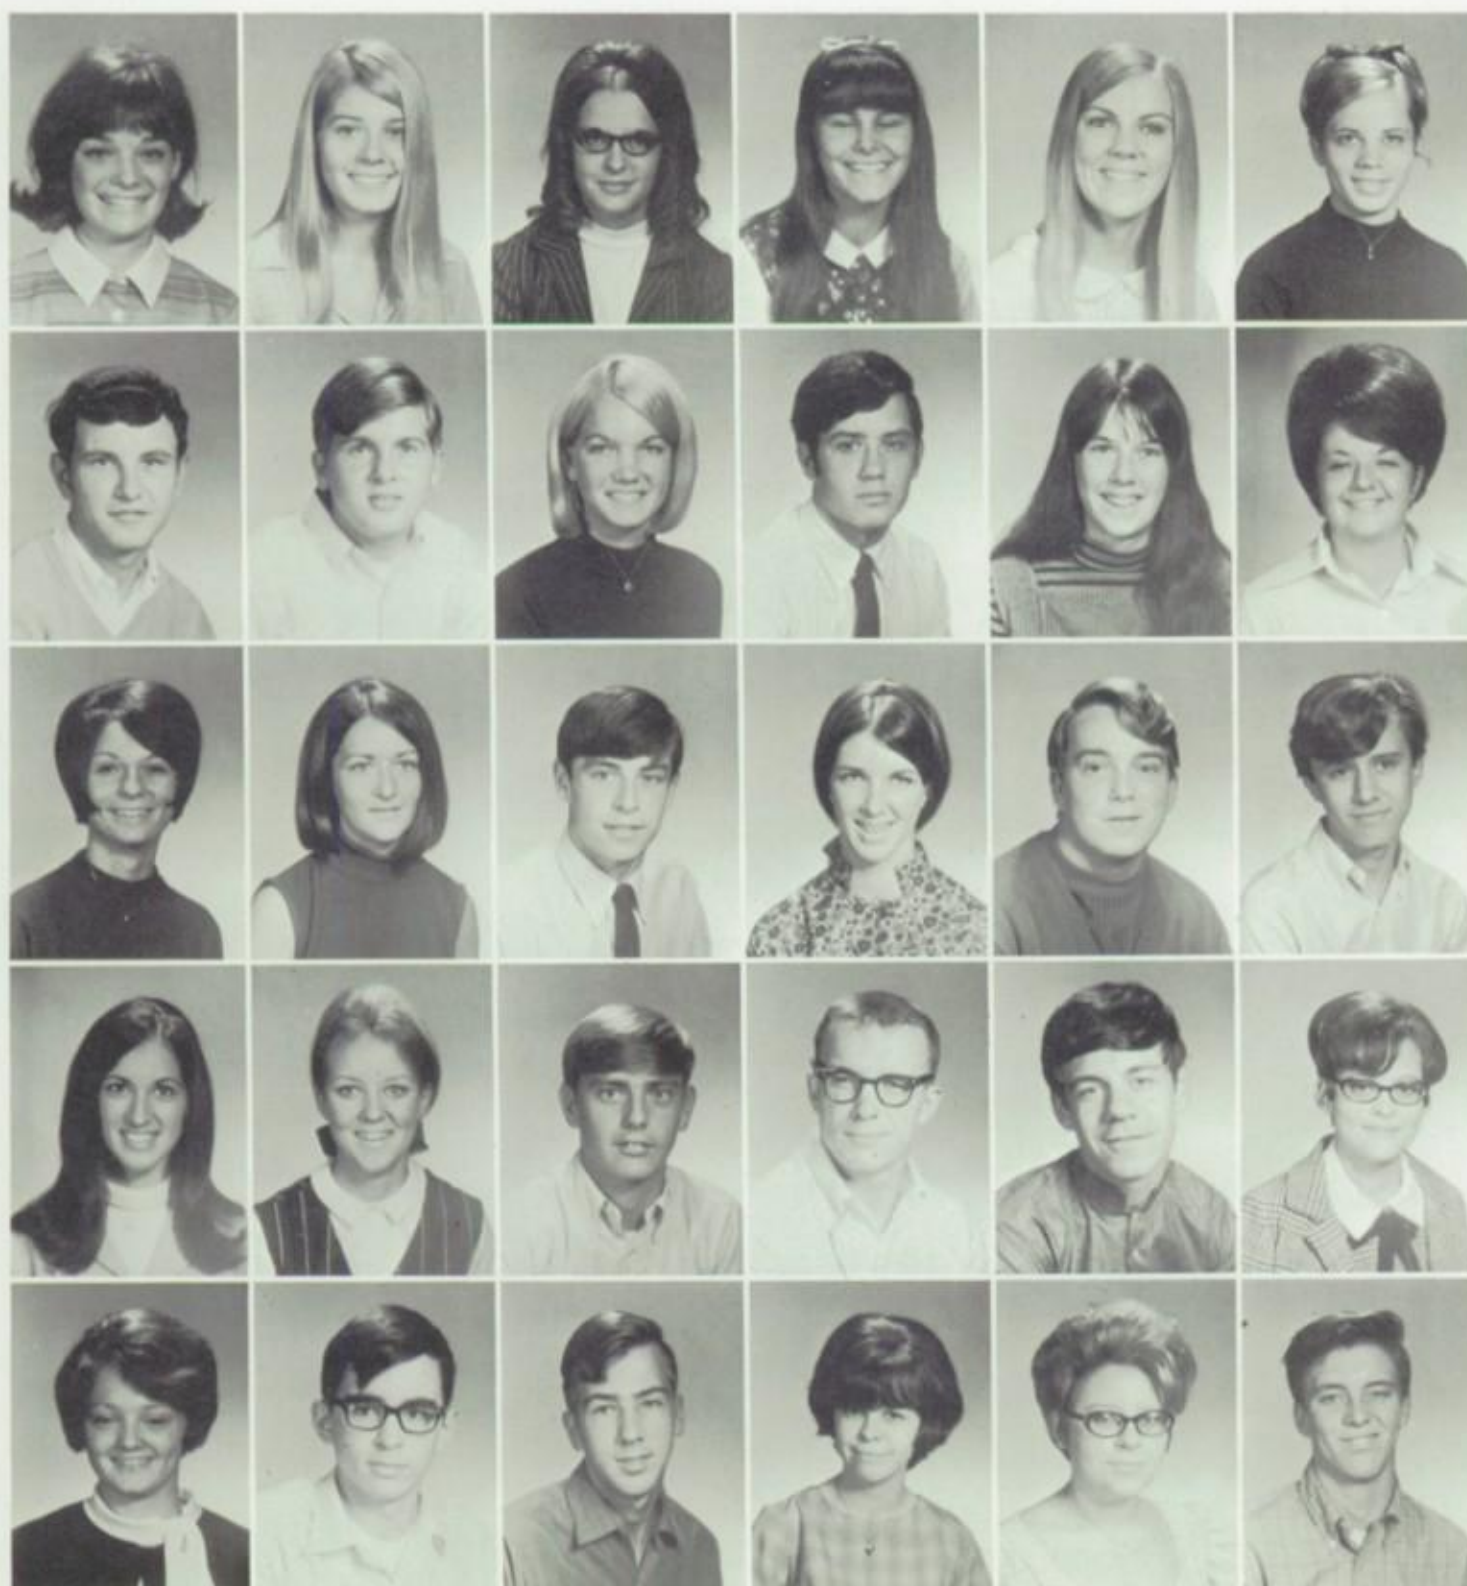

Raising money for the prom was a year-round project for the class. To add funds to the treasury, they sold refreshments at all home basketball games and sponsored a dance.

Bruce Henry, President of the junior class, is offered advice by the feminine officers of the class: Bonnie Smith, Vice-President; Debbie Begley, Treasurer; and Vickie Spurgeon, Secretary.

Mr. Randall and Mrs. Sulkes, junior class sponsors, checked the quality of the refreshments before the games.

Officers Cooperated to Construct Projects

The year was a busy one for the 258 sophomores and their sponsors, Mrs. Gumm and Mr. Miracle. During the weeks before Homecoming, they worked several hours each night at Melissa Shanabrook's home constructing a float.

They also participated in the Christmas festivities, sponsored a movie, and somehow found time for their studies.

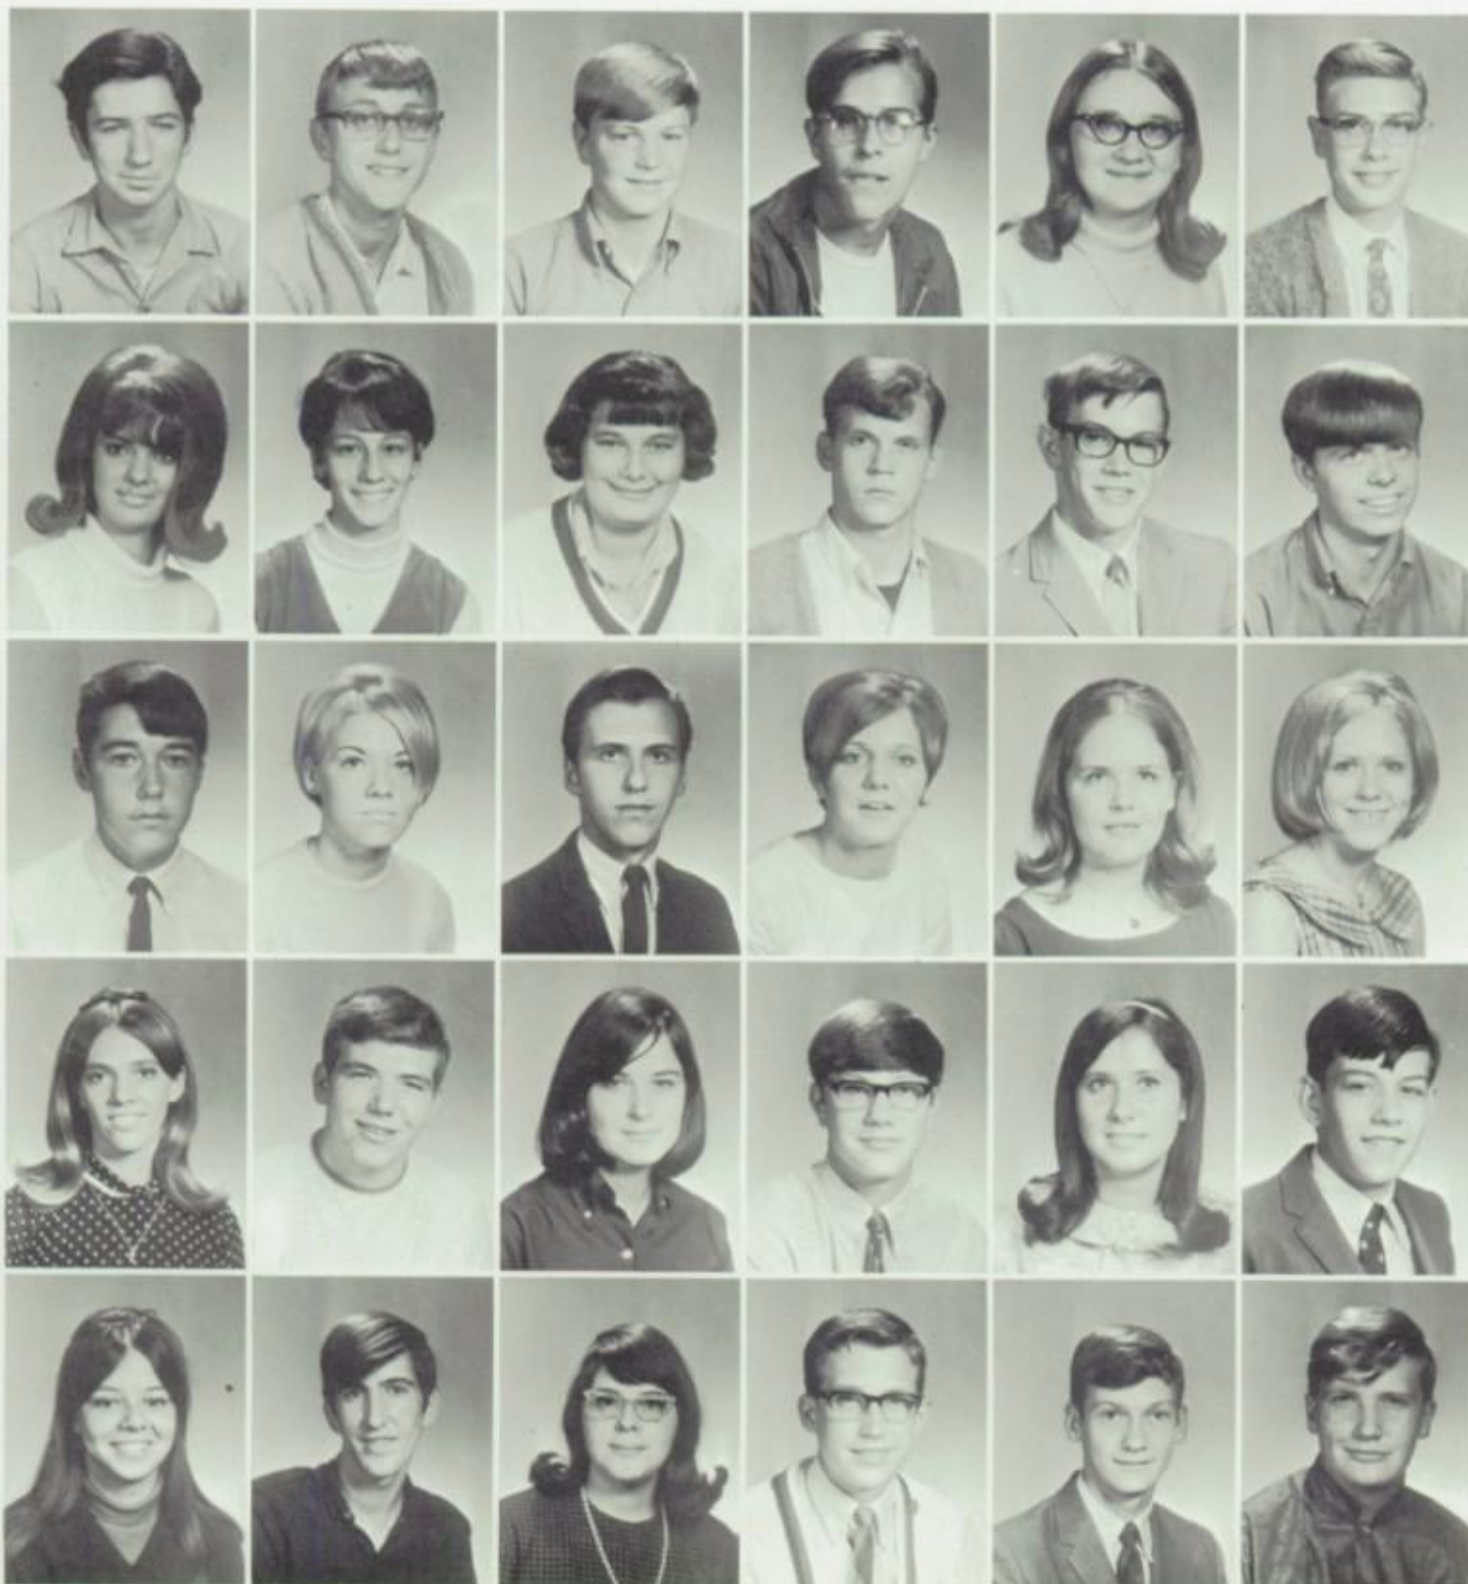

They were tested by the General Aptitude Test Battery, or GATB as it is more popularly known. The results provided the counselors and teachers with a method for making vocational selections.

Fulton's invention of the steamboat was the basis for the sophomore float.

The sophomore officers, Secretary Patricia Wood, Treasurer Beverly Kirschner, President Melissa Shanabrook, and Vice-President Brenda Sellmeyer, showed their school spirit throughout the year.

Float-Building Began Freshman Activities

The class of '72, with 340 students, was the largest freshman class in the history of Amelia High School.

Led by the class officers and the class sponsors, Miss Hatley and Mr. Phillips, the freshmen organized and executed several class activities. Soon after becoming familiar with the high school, they constructed a float for Homecoming. Their efforts paid off when their float, with the theme "Flight to Victory," was awarded second place in the contest.

The freshmen also decorated two doors during the Christmas festivities and sponsored a movie entitled "The Deadly Affair" to build up their treasury.

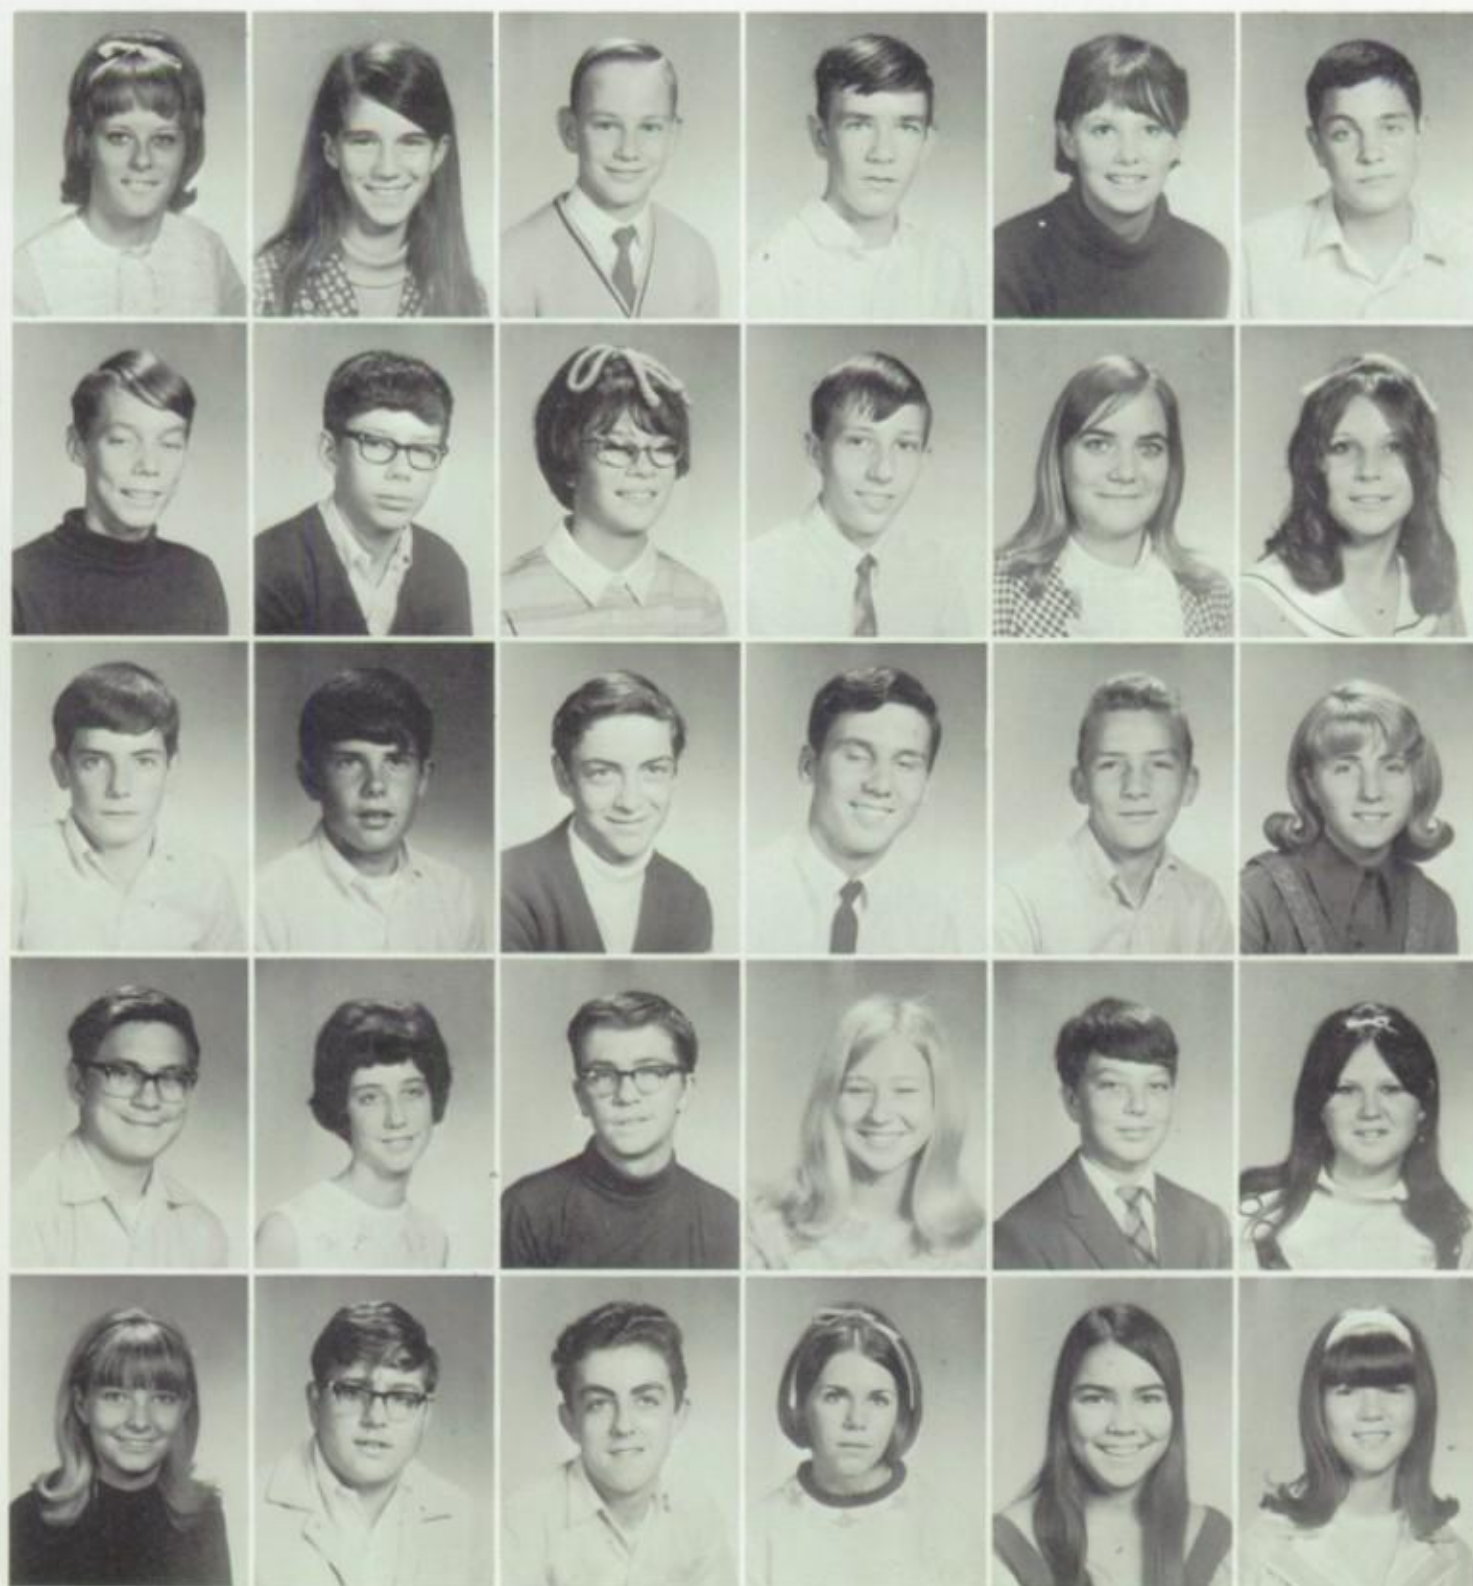

Much effort was put into the building of the class float, "Flight to Victory."

Year of Change Was Marked by Fond Memories

Mark Begley, Rick Sheets, and Steve Kirschner talked over the morning's events during lunch.

Gym class was the scene of occasional casualties.

Mr. Jones and Tom Newman had problems with overweight freshmen.

Shelly Schoff made Jerry Jones almost happy about his broken arm.

COMMUNITY

Creates Lasting Impressions Of Youthful Lives

Community ... molding our impressions ... furnishing resources to fill our every need ... answering our every whim ... changing with the times ... from a dress shop to a department store ... from a grocery to a supermarket ... filling different needs ... clothing ... food ... appliances ...

community ... offering a change of pace ... window shopping ... eating at a favorite restaurant ... buying new clothes ... going to church ... all within a moment's reach ... impressions ... existing in a community ...

Impressions of Year Captured in Annual

Impressions ... of teachers ... classmates ... parents ... friends ... of an experiment ... an election report ... an unconquerable math problem ... a novel or short story ...

impressions of moments ... getting an "A" on a term paper ... having a laugh at lunch ... defeating an arch rival ... getting report cards ... being tapped into the Honor Society ... receiving a diploma ...

impressions ... of classes ... activities ... sports ... impressions of the school year ... fading away ... yet always lasting in the yearbook ...
